Seek Open Hearings In Rolph Administration Probe

WILL OPEN INQUIRIES NEXT WEEK

Legislature Closes First Week of Work Behind Schedule of Year Ago
DELAY COMMITTEES
Business of Considering Various Measures Will Be Taken Up Next Week

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Jan. 7.—(UP)—The problem of conducting two investigations into Gov. James Rolph's administration without paralyzing other work in the state legislature today occupied the attention of lawmakers in charge of the inquiries.

Sen. J. M. Inman, Sacramento, anti-administrationist who proposed the investigations, said he would lose no time in calling his committee together Monday. At that time plans will be made to start hearings concerning asserted "irregularities" of the state government, as charged by Inman.

A letter demanding that all hearings in this inquiry be open to the public was sent to Inman by Earl Lee Kelly, director of public works, who made the first investigation of this nature under direction of Governor Rolph.

This was into the administration of Kelly's predecessor, Col. Walter E. Garrison, and Deputy Director James I. Herz. Kelly's letter was inspired by a provision in Inman's resolution permitting secret hearings, if deemed advisable.

Sen. David Bush of Okaloosa, who will supervise the investigation, said he would have no objection to the public being present at the hearings, but that the nature of a complete exoneration of Colonel Garrison of any wrong doing.

At the close of the first week's session, the legislature was far behind the record of 1931 in point of introduction of bills. With the appointment of standing committees by both Lieutenant Governor Frank F. Merriam for the session.

DRYS OPEN BATTLE ON 3.2 BEER IN SENATE HEARINGS

ROOSEVELT TO MEET LEADERS ON JANUARY 19

Will Stop Over in Washington and Talk Over Extra Session Plans

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Jan. 7.—(UP)—President-elect Roosevelt, noting the storm caused by the budget balancing program suggested during the conference here with party leaders, is preparing for another such meeting in Washington January 19.

He will stop over in the capital at that time to talk with party whips while enroute to Muscle Shoals, Ala., and Warm Springs, Ga., where he intends to rest until he returns to Washington as president.

The president-elect believes an extra session of congress may be avoided if the ambitious revenue-bear-farm relief program is speedily enacted. It was tentatively approved after a five hour conference with Speaker Garner, Senator Joseph T. Robinson and others.

Roosevelt, friends declared, recognized the entire schedule turned on the beer proposal, by which the leaders are confident $137,000,000 in revenue can be realized. If that falls through at the short session, they said, then the entire budget balancing machinery would be thrown out of high gear making it necessary to wait for the next session.

Roosevelt was scheduled to leave, temporarily, in the next few days domestic legislative questions to confer with Secretary Stimson on operation of the department of state. He arranged the conference which will be held either here or in New York, through President Hoover.

Specific details concerning the proposed conference were lacking, Roosevelt meeting all questions with the remark "You had better talk with Mr. Stimson." Friends were of the opinion it would be for the purpose of providing him a comprehensive outline of diplomatic dealings now in progress.

He asserted such an outline would enable the new administration to proceed with dispatch of some of the foreign problems once it takes office. It was reported that the two men would talk informally on European war debts, disarmament, the Manchurian situation, and tariffs.

The economic issue, it was explained, will be tied up with the world economic conference in London this coming summer. Certain phases of them were dealt with by Roosevelt when he held a lengthy conversation recently with Norman H. Davis, one of the members of the committee drawing up the tentative agenda of the conference.

Roosevelt in this week end stay here was scheduled to see Governor Gifford Pinchot of Pennsylvania Sunday afternoon. Pinchot is coming here at his invitation.

The President-elect motored to Krum Elbow, his country home, from New York. Mrs. Roosevelt, did not accompany him. She left by train last night with her son James, to attend the funeral of former president Coolidge at Northampton, Mass.

MARDI GRAS OPENS WITH ANNUAL BALL

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 7.—(UP)—Mardi Gras carnival season, oldest and one of the most colorful celebrations in the country, was formally opened last night as 12th night revelers gathered amid a gay setting at Municipal auditorium for their annual ball.

OREGON SOLON PASSES AWAY IN WASHINGTON

Congressman Butler Succumbs to Pneumonia After Long Illness

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—(UP)—Representative Butler, Republican, Oregon, died at Providence hospital at 2:05 p. m. today of pneumonia.

Butler had been ill with the disease for several weeks. Last night his heart weakened under the strain of combating the illness.

His mother, who had been at his bedside during Christmas week, returned to her Tennessee home a few days ago, believing her son was on the road to recovery.

Butler was born in Butler, Tenn., Sept. 24, 1881. He received his law degree from Cumberland university, Lebanon, Tenn., and practiced law in that state before going to Oregon in 1906.

He first came to congress for the short term of the 70th congress filling the unexpired term of N. J. Sinnott. He was elected to the 71st and 72nd congresses from the second Oregon district.

He served on the claims, irrigation and reclamation, and public lands committees.

SAYS THOMAS WILL LEAD NEW MARCH

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—(UP)—Marx Lewis, national director of organization for the Socialist party, said today that Norman Thomas, the party's candidate for president at the last election, would lead a gigantic "unemployment relief march" to Washington after the Roosevelt administration begins on March 4.

LEADING BANKS SHOW DEPOSITS GAIN IN YEAR

Chase National Has 60 Million More Cash Than Last January

NEW YORK CITY, Jan. 7.—The three largest New York banks ended 1932 in an unusually liquid condition, with the three institutions having combined resources amounting to nearly $5,000,000,000.

An encouraging and significant fact, learned on comparing annual statements, was that the Chase National bank has $50,000,000 more cash on hand than at the end of 1931.

Considered typical of the larger banks, the year-end statements show gains in deposits over the preceding quarter, increased holdings of government securities and cash, and little change in capital, surplus and undivided profit accounts.

Chase National continued to hold the ranking of world's largest bank. It had resources of $1,556,290,000. National City, with $1,615,260,000, was second. Guaranty Trust company, a state chartered institution, held third ranking in size with resources of $1,419,850,000.

Deposits stood as follows: Chase, $1,468,038,000; National City, $1,299,377,000; and Guaranty, $1,018,967,000.

In combined capital, surplus and undivided profits, Guaranty Trust led the group with $271,233,000. Chase had $259,130,000 and National City, $205,154,000.

Government security holdings of Guaranty were almost equal to those of Chase and City combined. Guaranty had $227,071,000 of U. S. paper, against $384,536,000 for City and $214,998,000 for Chase.

Chase had $291,297,000 cash on hand, against $300,619,000 for City and $197,059,100 for Guaranty.

POLISH INVENTOR GIVEN TWO YEARS

PARIS, Jan. 7.—(UP)—John De Habbank Dunkowski, Polish inventor, was sentenced today to two years in prison and fined 100 francs for his attempts to make gold out of sand. He was ordered to refund his financial backers 2,500,000 francs.

The Seine correctional court decided that "the secret process of turning sand into gold was a combination of absurdities and contradictions" and found Dunkowski guilty of fraud in seeking capital for his enterprise.

Dunkowski erected his gold making machine on front of a sand pile in the French patents hall and was given eight days to produce gold. He failed, and was placed on trial.

Testimony Submitted By Leaders

Counsel for Anti-Saloon League Holds Measure Unconstitutional

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—(UP)—Edward B. Dunford, counsel for the Anti-Saloon League, W. C. T. U., and other powerful dry organizations, today declared the Collier 3.2 per cent beer bill to be "squarely in conflict with the 18th amendment" and hence unconstitutional.

Bearing the brunt of the dry argument in a scheduled six hour hearing before a senate judiciary subcommittee, Dunford as the first witness staked his case almost entirely on the contention that 3.2 per cent beer is intoxicating. He quoted scientific evidence to support that contention.

Dunford was followed by an array of prohibitionist witnesses, including two women who asserted the failure of the Collier bill to forbid sale of beer to minors would endanger the physical and moral welfare of 30,000,000 children.

The women who presented this argument were Mrs. William T. Bannerman of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers and Mrs. Henry W. Peabody, chairman of the Woman's National Committee for Law Enforcement.

Wets Contentious
Leading wet organizations were so confident the committee would approve the bill that they did not plan to present testimony at the hearings. Rep. Beck, Repn. Pa., noted as an authority on constitutional law, was to reply to Dunford's arguments for the wets.

Privately many wets expressed fear that the drys have the best of the constitutional argument, and that the supreme court would set the beer bill aside if it were enacted. Despite this possibility, and the strong probability of a presidential veto, they are determined to press the measure.

Dunford declared 3.2 per cent "is substantially the same as prohibition beer which was commonly known to be intoxicating." He said this was shown by a department of agriculture study in 1917.

"Beer represented 90 per cent of the volume of the liquor traffic prior to national prohibition," the attorney continued. "No one questioned that when the 18th amendment was adopted, least of all the brewers, that it was intended to prohibit the manufacture and sale of beer."

"The people did not go to the trouble of amending the constitution to prohibit 10 per cent only of the liquor traffic and to grant the brewers a monopoly of the remainder."

Dunford cited laboratory tests made on medical students by Dr. Walter R. Miles of Yale. He quoted Miles as having concluded that: "There is no longer room for doubt in reference to the toxic action of alcoholic beverages as weak as 2.75 per cent by weight."

He pointed out that 3.2 per cent brew is 13 per cent stronger than that used by Miles in the experiments which led to that finding.

Says Intoxicating
As for scientists who have testified that 3.2 per cent beer was not intoxicating, Dunford said some of them had qualified their evidence by stating that they based their statements upon a "healthy

HARRY DUCKETT IS CALLED BY DEATH TODAY

Former Co-publisher of Register Dies in Home After Long Illness

HARRY T. DUCKETT, 67, prominent retired Santa Ana newspaperman, died at noon today at his home, 2025 Victoria Drive. Death came following a severe illness of five days, which followed an illness of several years duration.

Dockett, one of the best known and most popular of Santa Ana business men, purchased an interest in The Register at the same time that J. P. Baumgartner and Terry E. Stephenson were publishers of the newspaper, in 1906.

He came to Santa Ana from Pasadena, where he was connected with Baumgartner in the newspaper business for about six years. He had retired from active work in 1925. He disposed of his interest in The Register in 1927.

Before his career in Pasadena, Dockett had been in the newspaper business in Indiana for several years. He was a member of the Northern Montana. He and the late Charlie Russell, world renowned artist, were cowboys on the same ranch along the Missouri river near Cutbank. He went to Kansas City after leaving Montana.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Katie Dockett. He had been a member of the Santa Ana Elks lodge since 1908. The body was taken to the Smith and Tuthill funeral home this afternoon, where funeral services will be held at a date to be announced later.

LAUNCH INQUIRY IN SLAYING OF WOMAN

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 7.—(UP)—Riverside county authorities were asked today to investigate the slaying of Mrs. Elizabeth Stewart, 60, owner of the Stewart ranch four miles north of Fallbrook.

Reports of local authorities said Mrs. Stewart was shot to death Friday by Edward Burns, an employee, who also wounded Walter Johnson, another employee.

Johnson, despite his wounds, made his way to a nearby ranch and notified the San Diego sheriff's office. Burns was arrested a short time later by deputy sheriffs who turned him over to Riverside officials.

Burns, the deputies said, was unable to give any reason for the shooting.

HOP GROWERS PLAN NEW ORGANIZATION

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Jan. 7.—(UP)—Hop growers of California, looking forward to better days for their industry, have organized a plan of hop root control adopted, it was announced today by Dudley Moulton, director of agriculture.

A membership drive to control 75 per cent of the 3700 acres producing is being made, with Sacramento, Yuba, Yolo, Sonoma, Lake and Mendocino growers participating.

Hop root importations into the state are prohibited by quarantine, making control easy. Only growers producing since 1927 are eligible to the organization.

Day in Congress

SENATE
In recess until Monday because of Coolidge funeral. Judiciary subcommittee hearing on beer bill. Mines and mining committee hearing on Borah mine assessment bill. Manufacturers subcommittee hearing on unemployment relief. Appropriations subcommittee meets on first deficiency bill.

HOUSE
In recess until Monday. Appropriations subcommittee considers annual supply bill.

JAPS. CHINESE PREPARING TO RENEW BATTLE

Clashes in Jehol District Appear Imminent; Positions Strengthened

CHANGCHUN, Manchuria, Jan. 7.—(UP)—Clashes between Japanese and Chinese troops in Jehol province appeared imminent today as both armies continued to strengthen their positions in the vicinity of Shanhaiwan.

Troops of Marshal Chang Hsueh-Liang, young Chinese war lord charged with the defense of the area, occupied the towns of Ping-Chuan, Lingyuan, Chienkouan and Peichangyintze, all in Jehol, today.

From Peiping it was learned that volunteer troops under Chang Kuellin have been ordered to take up positions around Chienkouan, Suchung and Changchung.

Inside the great wall, Marshal Wang Shu-Chang was advancing his infantry and two artillery corps toward Shanhaiwan, where the clash earlier in the week resulted in the seizing of that city by Japanese.

The widespread movement of Chinese troops in the region was interpreted as meaning the Chinese will make a determined stand against any effort by Japanese forces to advance into Jehol province.

Rumors that the Japanese planned to capture Pien-tsin next, stated at Peiping despite denials issued at Japanese military headquarters here.

Southwest of Shanhaiwan, Chinese troops were reported to be busily constructing fortifications and bringing artillery into position. Troops stationed there were substantially reinforced yesterday.

H. D. Watts, vice president of the Hanes Stewart Co., contractors, said the fire was "as plain a case of sabotage as I ever saw." He added, however, that the company had not had any labor troubles.

Fire Marshal Calvin Leuber disputed Watts' view. He expressed belief that the fire was started accidentally, perhaps by a cigarette.

BRIDE AND MOTHER IN SUICIDE PACT

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Jan. 7.—(UP)—A bride of three months, brooding over the death of her husband, entered a suicide pact with her mother early this week and together they drained a vial of poison. The bodies were found last night in their home here.

The bride was Mrs. Mary E. Mackintosh, 40, and her mother, Mrs. Gertrude Chase, 76, widow from Denver, Colo.

TRIBUTE IS PAID FORMER PRESIDENT

Chief Executive of Nation and Wife in Attendance at Services in Church

BURIAL AT PLYMOUTH
Five Thousand Persons in Streets Silently Pay Final Homage to Friend

PLYMOUTH, Vt., Jan. 7.—(UP)—Calvin Coolidge was laid to rest this afternoon in this village of his birth and of his boyhood.

The nation's great, who had paid him tribute at simple funeral services in Northampton, were replaced at the burial by the humble inhabitants of this hill hamlet which gave the country its 30th president.

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., Jan. 7.—(UP)—In the Edwards church where he had worshipped for many years a funeral service of impressive simplicity was held today for Calvin Coolidge, 30th president of the United States.

Although the nation's great were present, the ceremony was marked by the same homely dignity that had characterized the famous New Englander's political career.

President and Mrs. Hoover, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt and her son James, were among those who paid him silent tribute. But there was no pomp, no display. The very atmosphere of the church was severe.

The strains of a selection from Dvorak's New World Symphony drifted over the congregation from the organ in front of the casket. It was the same selection which was played at the funeral of Calvin Coolidge Jr., youngest son of the former president, who died during his father's term in the White House.

The Rev. Albert J. Penney, youthful and deep voiced, who has been pastor here only four months, but enjoyed the intimate acquaintance of both Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge, delivered the invocation, a prayer for light, for compassion, for solace.

He stood above the casket, on either side of which two standards bore the flags of the nation and the church.

As the minister finished, a quartet softly began the hymn "Lead, Kindly Light," a favorite of Mr. Coolidge. The plain, varnished walls of the rectangular auditorium, in the balcony of which were crowded townspeople who had known the former president as a neighbor, echoed back the final word.

Scripture Reading
The scripture reading, selections from the Psalms, from Romans, Corinthians and John, followed.

"Peace I leave with you; my peace I give unto you; not as the world giveth you I unto you. Let not your heart be troubled."

BEVERLY HILLS, Jan. 7.—(To the Editor of The Register:) You got to hand it to Iowa for the best news today. Some "bird" tried to bid in a farm on a forced sale at less than the mortgage, and come pretty near landing hanging under a giant oak. We hope the days of the old town skinflint sitting back with some ready money to buy in the widow's home is about over. Did you read where some Senator from Colorado was giving up his seat to his successor right away? He figured that the folks elected the other fellow and he was the one they wanted in there. That's almost unheard of in political life. There is a "lame duck" that should have a statue.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

SERVICES FOR COOLIDGE ARE MOST SIMPLE

neither let it be fearful. The Rev. Penner paused and bowed his head.

"Almighty God, our heavenly Father, at this moment a whole nation, stricken with grief, bows before thee. We are made to realize again the frailty and transitoriness of our life here upon earth, and our constant need of thee, who are the eternal rock of ages. We thank thee, O God, that we can cling to thee, and that amid all the change and decay which all around we see, thou never change. But it is thou alone a grief-stricken nation which bows before thee—it is a thankful nation as well.

"We thank thee for the life of him whose death we now mourn. We thank thee for what his life has meant to the country and to the world. We thank thee for the exemplary devotion which he showed in the discharge of all his public duties. We thank thee for the faithfulness with which he served his town. We thank thee for the measure of dedication which he brought to the service of the commonwealth.

"And above all do we bless thee for the consecration with which he served his country in the highest office within the gift of the people. He kept the faith which people placed in him.

"We know he is not dead, for with thee there is no death. And now we pray that thou wouldst make his memory to be a bright and shining light upon the untrodden way that we have still to walk, and upon the unknown path that our nation has still to go. May we share his devotion, his consecration, his deep humility and his ardent faith in the future, a faith that was rooted and grounded in a profound faith in thee. Raise up, O Lord, in our day, new leaders who follow in his steps.

"O Father of infinite compassion, God of all comfort, reveal Thyself to those who know him best and loved him most. Strengthen the hearts that faint under the heavy burden, and support them in the arms of Thine infinite love. May they know that in all their distress Thou dost care for them with unfailing tenderness. Help them to bear with patience their affliction, and to look with glad confidence toward that future where God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes.

"May we not begrudge him, whose loss we so deeply mourn, the rest with Thee which he has so richly deserved, knowing that by Thy mercy and grace he finished his course, having kept the faith. We ask this for the sake of Thy Son, our Saviour, Jesus Christ. Amen."

Quartet Sings
The quartet began the refrain, "O Love That Wilt Not Let Go." This song was the selection of Mrs. Grace Coolidge.

The minister pronounced benediction—"Unto God's gracious mercy and protection we commit you. The Lord bless you and keep you. The Lord make His face to shine upon you and be gracious unto you. The Lord lift up His countenance upon you, and give you peace, both now and forever more. Amen."

The organ played a soft postlude and Mr. Coolidge's neighbors rose and walked quietly out of the church.

Mrs. Coolidge had entered the church on the arm of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. John Coolidge. As she passed the casket, and the congregation rose to honor her, she forced a brave little smile to her lips. But she never raised her eyes, and sat with bowed head through the opening prayer and the first bars of "Lead, Kindly Light."

In the second row, at the right, sat Vice President Charles Curtis and Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes. Beside them was Clifford Lyman, a Northampton book store proprietor, long time friend of the late president, and an honorary pall bearer.

The chancel and choir loft were banked with masses of flowers, lilies predominating. The most striking floral tribute was an immense wreath of ferns interlaced with orchids, which has been sent by the diplomatic corps at Washington.

Outside the red brick edifice, jamming the sidewalks and crowding the hillside nearby, were fully 5000 citizens. Silently they watched the approach of the nation's notables.

Gov. Joseph B. Ely of Massachusetts was an early arrival at the church with his staff.

As the church filled, Organist Thomas C. Ault played Chopin's Funeral March.

The soft strains were punctuated by the wails of a very young child, in the balcony.

President Enters
The President and Mrs. Hoover entered the church at exactly 10:30 as the organ ended the funeral march and began Mrs. Coolidge's favorite musical selection, from Mendelssohn's New World Symphony.

The President's face was very grave as he came slowly down the aisle, preceded by a military aide.

A scene bordering on disorder was enacted as the President walked down the steps of the church, his head bowed in grief. The immense crowd outside forgot the solemnity of the occasion and raised a loud cheer. The President

Raccoon Moves In on Pet Dog At Foster Home

An early morning caller at the Milton Foster residence, 1242 South Cypress street this morning, was a huge, 40-pound raccoon, who extended his call into a lengthy stay—whether the Fosters liked it or not.

Stalking determinedly into the back porch at 2:30 a. m. which is especially built to accommodate the family dog, the raccoon, one of the first to be reported roaming around the city, immediately proceeded to eust the dog from its bed and took possession.

Foster was awakened by the mournful howling of the dog, who had been chased away by the raccoon. On investigating Foster was surprised to find the raccoon in possession of the back porch.

NATIONAL AUTO SHOW OPENS IN NEW YORK CITY

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—(UP)—The National Automobile Show with 300 glittering new models valued at more than $1,000,000 opens at Grand Central Palace today.

"There is no depression," one automobile executive said. "Our motto this year is: More Value at a Lower Price."

The exhibition was arranged on three elaborately decorated floors. Twenty-eight American makes, one French car, seven truck makes, and hundreds of accessories and parts formed the exhibits. Some models were placed in settings so simple as to be stark, but one manufacturer spent $20,000 to give his product a glittering surrounding.

New body designs, especially a more obvious adaption of stream lining, was general to almost all models. Many had "beaver-tails," a slanting rear counter to the inclined radiator.

Most of the manufacturers sought to be "dramatic." There were bare chassis to demonstrate the power plant in operation under stress, motion pictures of hill climbing and other feats, visual demonstrations of vibration and the lack of it at high speeds, and a device to show what happens to a car when it collides with another.

THRILL OF FLYING BROUGHT TO EARTH

Riding in an automobile equipped with the new "Flying Silver-towns," B. F. Goodrich Company tires designed to carry only 15 pounds of air, is actually comparable to riding in an airplane, for some of the thrill of smooth flying is brought to earth, according to Mr. Orval Lyon, B. F. Goodrich Company dealer at Santa Ana.

The remarkable new Goodrich low pressure tires "float" your car on a cushion of air. Mr. Lyon explained, "These tires have many of the characteristics of Goodrich airplane tires. Approximately 55 per cent of all commercial airplanes in the United States take off and land on Goodrich tires."

BUY AMERICAN PLAN ENDORSED BY VETS

Ernest Kellogg post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, endorsed the "Buy American" movement which is being instigated in the nation, at the regular meeting held last night in the K. of P. hall.

Oscar E. Dorn of Anaheim was elected trustee of the post. Charles W. Kincaid was transferred to Fullerton post. He was a charter member of the local post and had been active in veteran affairs.

The drum corps was reorganized with Glen Hendrickson named general manager.

Plans were discussed for a pot-luck dinner of all veteran organizations in the city which will be held in the near future.

Commander Neil E. Meister presided.

Police News

Juan Martinez, 24, of Fullerton, was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Art Ellis and E. E. Perry late yesterday and lodged in the county jail, where he is booked on a statutory charge. He has not been arraigned.

There was no indication that he heard a sound.

As the throng pressed closely around him, however, two women, caught in the jam, fainted and were assisted to safety by the police. Several youngsters, almost trampled under foot, raised loud outcries. A man was knocked down by an automobile.

The main street sidewalks were lined with other crowds trying to glimpse the celebrities.

As the congregation emerged from church, the leaden skies, dark since early morning, began to let down a mild rain, and the merchants' flags drooped gloomily at half staff.

Hoover's train pulled away from the station at 11:45. The funeral cortege proceeded to Plymouth at noon.

adult accustomed to drinking a moderate amount of beer." Others he said, admitted that the toxic effect depended on whether the beer was taken on a full or empty stomach, also on age, sex, tolerance to use and other conditions.

"The constitution was not adopted simply to protect the average healthy adult who has established a tolerance for alcohol," Dunford asserted, "but to protect all classes, including the young, immature, and those most susceptible to the narcotic, habit forming nature of alcohol."

"Under this bill 3.2 percent beer would be sold without restriction in the corner grocery, at soda fountains and any place whatsoever and be purchased by all classes including women and children."

There is no restriction, another prohibition organization attorney, was interrupted by Chairman Blaine who suggested that dry objections could be met by making the beer bill read that alcoholic beverages "shall be presumed to be intoxicating only when it contains in excess of 3.2 percent by weight."

"No, that would not do and I shall demonstrate that fact," Wilson replied, citing a Wisconsin case in which courts had determined to "take judicial notice of beer."

"Oh, that was Bock beer," Blaine said. "I presume you are familiar with Bock."

"I have never tasted it, sir."

The gallery of prohibitionists which included Bishop James Canon, Jr., applauded the witness.

Wilson said there had been "considerable difficulty in getting authorities to enforce or attempt to enforce the national prohibition act."

"I am glad you said 'attempt to enforce,'" Blaine said, "you surely don't contend that it can be enforced."

"Let me tell you," Wilson replied, "Colonel Woodcock, director of prohibition told me on the telephone that the act now is being enforced to the extent of about 92 per cent."

"I am afraid that is self serving evidence," Blaine said.

MAN ARRESTED FOR AUTOMOBILE THEFT

Earl Minter, former Santa Ana man, wanted in Orange county on a charge of stealing an automobile, has been arrested in Ludlow, Calif. It was reported here today.

The car in question was stolen from E. E. Ross, of Santa Ana, and the theft took place last month in Placentia.

The car also has been located according to advices received here by the police. It is stored in the Murphy Garage at Ludlow and had been badly damaged by fire, authorities said.

Sheriff's officers were to leave here today to return Minter to Santa Ana.

Opens New Type Cleaning Plant

Harry Gardner, owner and operator of Gardner's Cleaners, today announced the opening of a new carbon-tetro-chloride cleaning plant at 206 West Fifth street, to which the public is invited.

"While the carbon-tetro-chloride method of cleaning is new on the Pacific coast," Gardner said, "the fire-proof features of the process and the fact that the clothes come out of the plant entirely odorless is making this new process quite popular in the east. This is the only plant of its kind in Orange county and there are but few on the Pacific coast."

Communism To Be Pastor's Subject

"Socialism and Communism From a Christian's Point of View" will be the subject of a message to be delivered by Rev. J. Stuart Hyndman at the First Presbyterian Church of Tustin at 7 p. m. tomorrow. The Tustin post of the American Legion and its auxiliary has been invited to attend in a body.

New Court Bailiff Appointed Today

Appointment of George Grauspensberg as bailiff in department two, superior court was announced today by Sheriff Logan Jackson. Grauspensberg succeeded Charles Dixon who resigned.

Dixon was transferred to duty in the jail several weeks ago and Robert Steinberger, deputy jailer, was temporarily assigned as bailiff. Steinberger will return to his duties in the jail, Jackson said today.

Picnics and Reunions

IDAHO
The annual picnic reunion of the Idaho people in Southern California will be held all day, Saturday, January 14, 1933, in Sycamore Grove park, Los Angeles. All the picnic attractions will be offered including the county headquarters and registers, hot coffee and badges. There is always a popular program after the dinner hour. All the state registers may be seen at the offices of the Federation of State Societies in the Hotel Alexandria, Fifth and Spring streets, Mutual 0361.

200 COUNTY RESIDENTS NAMED ON NEW SUPERIOR COURT JURY PANEL FOR YEAR

In an order signed by the three judges of the superior court and issued here yesterday a list of 200 Orange County residents selected as trial jurors for the ensuing year has been released.

Those jurors will provide the four panels to be called into service during the year. Each panel is called and serves for three months before being replaced from the list by another panel.

The first drawing is scheduled for an early date this month upon completion of its service by the final panel of the 1932 jury.

SPEAKER SAYS WILL SUPPORT INCREASED TAX

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—(UP)—Speaker Garner today emphatically placed his full support behind the proposal to raise additional revenues through increased income taxes as agreed upon at the New York conference with president-elect Roosevelt.

"I would be mighty glad to see it (the Roosevelt conference tax plan) reported and passed by the House," the speaker said.

Garner's declaration came at a time when other leaders were seriously considering alternative plans of taxation. Many are convinced that the program to levy the heaviest rates in peace time history cannot be pushed through the present congress.

The speaker himself, although willing to "go down the line" for the Roosevelt accepted plan, admitted the possibility that a rebellious house might refuse to balance the budget by increasing the tax burden on persons of small or medium income.

Both house and senate are admittedly restless over the proposal. A stern battle is expected in the ways and means committee before the income tax measure is even reported to the house.

A proposal to levy an additional impost on dividends is gaining headway, and some talk of reviving the politically dangerous general manufacturers' sales tax.

Garner reminded that if the income tax boost does not find favor "there are 49 other ways of getting the necessary funds."

"You must remember this is a practical proposition," he warned.

The speaker took occasion to clarify a statement made yesterday in which he said he "could suggest taxes that would be less painful" than the income tax increase.

This, he said, in no way indicated that he would repudiate the New York "agreement," but rather that he would have an alternative plan if the house rejected the first proposal.

"The question is getting so much revenue," he added. "I don't care how you get it. The thing is to get it. It was suggested up there at the conference that to broaden the base of the income tax and to raise rates was the best way of meeting the deficit. Someone said you could get $203,000,000 that way and there was no objection."

Meanwhile drastic governmental savings, another phase of the Democratic budget-balancing plan, were being pushed with the possibility that veterans' compensations might feel the axe of federal economy.

The conference agreed to reduce

DECREES ARE GRANTED FOR FOUR WIVES

Four divorces were granted yesterday by Superior Judge G. K. Scovel in department three, superior court.

Mrs. Ariel E. Barr was given an interlocutory decree of divorce from Clark D. Barr when she told the court that in addition to failing to provide her with the necessities of life her husband had slapped her, called her vile language and refused to eat the meals she prepared for him. The Barrs were married in 1930 and separated August 25, 1932.

Charging that her husband came home frequently in an intoxicated condition and was abusive to her, Mrs. Althea Agee was given an interlocutory decree of divorce from William Agee. In addition to a decree she was given custody of a minor daughter adopted by the couple in 1921, $15 monthly for support of the child and $20 monthly alimony until she remarries. She accused her husband of gambling to the extent that he was unable to pay household bills, striking her and breaking the furniture in their home while under the influence of liquor. The Agees were married in 1919 in Oklahoma and separated November 14, 1932.

Mrs. Helen L. Newland of Huntington Beach was given a divorce from John D. Newland on her testimony that her husband had remained away from home practically the entire last two years of their married life and on the rare occasions when he did come home he was surly and insolent to her. She also said that he had accused her of intimacies with other men and had failed to provide her with the necessities of life. The Newlands were married in 1922 in San Bernardino and separated January 23, 1931, Huntington Beach.

Mrs. Margaret Applebee was given a divorce from Lawrence Applebee on her charge of desertion. The Applebees married in 1927 in Santa Ana and separated in 1930.

Scope of Health Association Work Now in Balance

Whether the scope of activities of the Orange County Tuberculosis and Health association will have to be limited this year, will depend largely on the response from 15,000 residents of the county who have not yet reported on Christmas seal letters sent to them, according to A. J. Cruickshank, treasurer.

"If an adequate return results from this appeal, the disease prevention program of the health association can go on unabated," Cruickshank said. "On the other hand, if these 15,000 citizens so decreed, the budget will have to be reduced and the work of the organization curbed. We sincerely hope that the people will realize more than ever the vital importance of guarding against disease, and that they will respond in such a way that the war on tuberculosis may be waged more insistently than ever."

The new rules committee, headed by Assemblyman C. Ray Robinson of Merced, offered rules requiring a separate rollcall on each bill. In this way it would prevent members from being recorded as voting on measures they know nothing about, Robinson said.

Senator Inman announced to the senate that unless the rule preventing such a procedure were strictly enforced, he would raise a point of legality of every bill before it is voted upon.

In the assembly, the attack was also launched upon the practice of substituting the rollcall on one bill for another uncontested measure, thus saving time in calling the list of 80 names.

GAS THIEF STRUCK BY IRATE OWNER

Ralph Pantuso of Placentia didn't catch the boys he surprised stealing gasoline out of his car, in front of 620 Lacy street last night, but he had the pleasure of hitting one of them with a rubber hose, he told police.

He came out of a house where he was visiting and saw two youths busy draining his gas tank. He ran at them and they turned and fled. He stopped long enough to pick up the hose they were using and as they sped away in a car he had parked across the street, he gave one of them a lively smack with the hose.

Technocracy to Be Topic Of Sermon

Taking a cue from Will Rogers, the Rev. O. W. Reinius, pastor of the Richland Avenue Methodist church, has chosen to address his Sunday evening congregation on "That Word We Cannot Spell—Technocracy." The sermon promises to develop a side of this new world topic not previously stressed by Santa Ana ministers.

Local Briefs

Harry Misen, 70, of Tacoma, Washington, brother of Mrs. Charles Watson, 220 Goetz avenue, Santa Ana, passed away recently, according to word received here today.

No one was reported injured when cars driven by L. S. Skinner, of 2108 Kilson drive, and Ben Serafin, of 124 Delhi road, collided at Cypress and St. Andrews' Place, yesterday.

HOLD WELFARE OF CHILDREN IS PARAMOUNT

The board of managers of the Fourth District Parent-Teacher association expressed emphatic objection, unanimously voted a resolution protesting any curtailment of the health program of Orange county at a specially called meeting yesterday afternoon at Anaheim, and will present the resolution to the board of supervisors next Tuesday at the regular session of that body.

The meeting, called by Mrs. W. Marvin of Anaheim, district president, was held during an intermission in the publicity conference conducted at the K. P. hall by Mrs. Joseph E. Morcombe, of San Francisco, under Mrs. Oliver W. chersheim, publicity chairman of the district. More than 75 attended.

Champion Children

At the special meeting, the resolution as presented outlined the policy of the state board in protecting state curtailment of health programs, and in the discussion, members of the board expressed themselves as emphatically opposed to any program that will interfere with the welfare of the child in school.

The text of the resolution follows:

"Whereas, on November 15-16, 1932, at a regular meeting of the board of managers of the California Congress of Parents and Teachers, convened in San Francisco, the state Congress was on record as reaffirming its support of the state bureau of child hygiene, and protesting any curtailment of the protection of the health of children through immunization;

"Therefore be it resolved, that the board of managers of the Fourth district, Congress of Parents and Teachers, go on record as reaffirming its support of the bureau of child hygiene and protesting any curtailment of the protection of the health of children by immunization; and

"Brings Financial Aid

"Whereas the Congress of Parents and Teachers has a membership of over 4000 in Orange county, and recognizing the important part the health program has taken in the increase of daily attendance in the 25,000 school children, thereby bringing financial aid to the schools of Orange county;

"Therefore be it resolved, that the board of managers of the Fourth district of the California Congress of Parents and Teachers now in session, urge the honorable board of supervisors to continue the preventive health program now in force in Orange county."

The resolution was signed by Mrs. G. H. Goodale, Mrs. J. D. Campbell, Mrs. Jennie V. Kelsey, resolutions committee, and Mrs. R. W. Marvin, district president.

In further discussion, it was pointed out by the board members that since inserting the preventive program in the school, closing school for epidemics has been practically unknown, and that the cost of the maintenance of the department in Orange county is more than offset by the increase in school funds through the increased average daily attendance of the schools, on which basis funds are granted to districts.

HURT SECOND TIME IN WEEK IN AUTO CRASH

The new year, so far has proved a disastrous one to Mrs. Mary Patterson, 59, of Route No. 1, Fullerton.

On January 2, she was in an automobile accident suffering several cuts and bruises about the face. She was taken to the Orange county hospital where she was given medical treatment and then removed to her home.

Yesterday afternoon she was being driven to the hospital for treatment, when the car in which she was riding was involved in another accident, and this time she is seriously hurt.

The car of J. Howard Patterson, 30, her son, of 1039 West Myrtle street, Santa Ana, and Harold L. Melvin, of Second and B streets, Tustin, collided at Lincoln and Magnolia avenues, three miles west of Anaheim.

Mrs. Patterson, riding on the back seat, suffered a broken pelvis bone and possible internal injuries. Gladys Forbes, 18, also a passenger in the car, was cut and bruised. Patterson was not hurt.

The Patterson car overturned in the crash, caught fire and burned up, it was reported.

W.C.T.U. to Hold Victory Luncheon

Marking anniversary of the passage of the Eighteenth amendment, the Santa Ana W.C.T.U. will hold its annual Victory day luncheon, Tuesday noon at the United Presbyterian church.

Members of the organization are asked to bring covered dishes and sandwiches.

This event also will mark the World Day of Prayer. Devotionals will be led by Mrs. Anna Ringland. Mrs. Pearl K. Hess, noted temperance worker will be one of the guests of honor and speaker at the luncheon.

Asserted Thief Is Held After Chase; Pal Makes Escape

Following a sensational chase at 8 o'clock this morning Officers Mills and Garner of the Fullerton police force caught Lloyd eterman off West Orangehorpe venue. Another man, Jack Wallace, said to be wanted in Los Angeles for grand theft, escaped in the darkness.

The two men were picked up in a large car on South Spadra after the officers started to their car to see if they were the men whose descriptions had been broadcast from Los Angeles.

These two men were not the men sought, it was found after investigation, but when they ran away as the officers approached their car, the officers followed them, and chased them to Orangehorpe, where the two men turned west. About half way between Spadra road and Highland avenue, they turned into an orchard, evidently hoping to double back and escape the police, but they turned in the orchard at a place where they came to a house, and had to stop.

The men had a carload of truck tires, said to have been stolen in San Gabriel valley. Police are investigating to find whether they were driving a stolen car.

JURY CONVICTS MOTORIST OF MANSLAUGHTER

Rolf Von Eckartsberg was found guilty last night by a jury in department two, superior court, on a charge of manslaughter. Superior Judge James L. Allen set Monday morning at 10 o'clock as the time for pronouncing judgment. Stanley Visel, defense attorney, served notice of a petition for probation to be filed on behalf of his client.

Von Eckartsberg, said to be a member of the German nobility, was arrested and charged with manslaughter following an auto mobile crash on South Main street, Orange, October 21, when Donald Wobler, Mark Leutzing, and Dorothy Hill, Orange High school students were killed. Edwin Johnson, another high school student and driver of the other automobile involved in the crash, was severely injured.

Charged with manslaughter, Von Eckartsberg, Glendale automobile dealer, was released from jail under $15,000 bond. Following the verdict of guilty, returned at 9 o'clock last night Von Eckartsberg was remanded to the custody of the sheriff and lodged in jail.

District Attorney S. R. Kaufman and Deputy District Attorney Leo B. Fris in their prosecution charged that at the time of the accident Von Eckartsberg was driving his high powered automobile on the wrong side of the highway. His defense was that just before the crash a passenger seated beside him in his machine reached for his hat and struck his arm throwing the automobile out of control. Contributory negligence on the part of the victims also was intimated.

Testimony of Clarence Curtis, who claimed to have been the man responsible for the crash, through grabbing for his hat, was introduced as the principal defense witness and was on the witness stand for several hours telling the story, under examination and cross examination, of events immediately preceding the crash and declaring that after the crash he was unconscious until the next day. Officers at the time of the accident reported that both Curtis and Von Eckartsberg claimed to be driving the car.

W. A. Mueller, another defense witness, testified that he was seated in his automobile in the drive of his home when the car driven by Johnson passed him at a high rate of speed. The crash occurred at 8:15 p. m. and Mueller said on the witness stand that as the car passed him he saw Johnson and the two young girls who were killed seated on the front seat of the coupe. The rumble seat, he testified, was open.

Both Kaufman and Fris devoted considerable of their arguments to the testimony of these two defense witnesses and Judge Allen took judicial notice of a portion of Mueller's testimony. Mueller had testified that at 7:49 p. m. when the Johnson automobile passed his home it was just beginning to get dark and that he could see and identify all occupants.

In his special instructions Judge Allen said: "This court takes judicial notice of the measure of time and the court advises you that it takes the judicial knowledge of the fact that on October 21, 1932, the sun set at the hour of 5:20 p. m."

In the opening argument to the jury Fris summed up the evidence referring to discrepancies between the testimony of Von Eckartsberg and Curtis. He also referred to the testimony of Mueller that when the automobile driven by Johnson passed him that he could identify all passengers. He pointed out that Mueller had described Dorothy Hill as having blonde, curly hair while her father testified that her hair was black and straight.

Kaufman, making the final argument, directed the jury's attention particularly to the evidence of Curtis and Mueller, pointing out that Curtis had testified that he was wearing a cap while evidence proved that he was wearing a hat. He also pointed to the fact that Curtis had failed to tell the same story at the coroner's inquest as he told at the trial.

He questioned the credibility and veracity of both Mueller and Curtis and asked for a verdict based upon facts and not upon passion or prejudice.

POMONA OFFICIALS AND CIVIC LEADERS HERE TO LEARN OF SUCCESSFUL RELIEF PROGRAM

Thirty city officials, civic leaders and welfare heads of Pomona were guests of the Santa Ana Unemployed association and the Citizens' Emergency Relief committee at a luncheon yesterday noon in the unemployed headquarters on North Main street. The meeting also was attended by city officials and civic leaders of Santa Ana.

Following an excellent luncheon prepared by Chef Frank Valdez, the Pomona delegation heard Chairman J. S. Smart of the Citizens' committee, Dr. George A. Warner, member of the committee, and William Riddiman, manager of the Unemployed association, outline the history of the unemployed group and explain methods of operation whereby members of the organization are supplied with food.

The group from Pomona, which came here to learn how the local unemployed group operates the association, famed for being one of the most successful in the nation, represented the city council, the chamber of commerce, the Business Men's association, the Merchant's Credit bureau, the Cooperative Exchange, churches, the postoffice, the county health department, the Salvation Army, the American Legion, the B. and P. W. club, the city engineer's office, the P.-T. A. and the Pomona Progress-Bulletin.

The delegates heard how the unemployed here obtain their food by collecting surplus products, making exchanges and by purchase of some articles. The wood-den projects, private gardens, barbers shop, shoe repairing department, the use of a power saw and other activities were explained.

Offer Medical Service

Dr. Warner quoted figures which showed there were 1175 calls on the commissary per week during the past month, that there are 1250 families enrolled with the association and that there are 650 active families on the list at the present time.

Following the dinner, the delegation made a tour of the various departments of the headquarters, with association officials explaining the operation of the departments.

Starting next week the officials plan to operate a family soup kitchen, making vegetable soup for members of the association which can be taken home in containers.

Dr. Richard Foster, for 10 years a practicing physician in Westminster, who had retired, will be stationed at the unemployed headquarters starting next week to give free medical service to members of the Unemployed association.

Registrations for employment on the Colorado river aqueduct will close Tuesday afternoon at 5 o'clock, it was announced today by George Raymer, secretary of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, where registrations are being taken.

With more than 900 men from Santa Ana registered for work through the chamber of commerce, it is believed that all eligible for positions can be registered by this time.

At the same time, it was announced that starting Monday the chamber of commerce will begin filling out formal applications for jobs on the Metropolitan Water District project from the last list of more than 400 names which are on file at the office.

The official blanks have been received by the chamber officials and work will start Monday to fill out the applications from the registered list. There were 500 applications sent in to district headquarters in Los Angeles previously.

Secretary Raymer called attention to the fact that only those men who have received notification cards may come to the office to fill out the application blanks. About 60 men will be taken up each day. The work is being divided so as to avoid confusion by having the hundreds of men flood the office at one time.

Hours for registration have been set at from 10 a. m. to noon and from 1 p. m. to 3 p. m.

Santa Ana's quota for work on the project totals 102 men, according to figures from district headquarters.

Clothing, Hunting Equipment Stolen

WOMAN LOST 20 POUNDS OF FAT

Lost Her Prominent Hips—Double Chin—Sluggishness

Gained Physical Vigor—A Shapely Figure.

If you're fat—first remove the cause! Take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water in the morning—in 3 weeks get on the scales and note how many pounds of fat have vanished.

Notice also that you have gained in energy—your skin is clearer—you feel younger in body—Kruschen will give any fat person a joyous surprise.

But be sure it's Kruschen—your health comes first—and SAFETY first is the Kruschen promise. Get a bottle of Kruschen Salts from McCoy Drug Co.—2 stores. Kelley's Drugs, Ltd., or any leading druggist anywhere in America (lasts 4 weeks) and the cost is but little. If this first bottle doesn't convince you this is the easiest, SAFEST and surest way to lose fat—your money gladly returned.—Adv.

AUTO STOLEN

Ralph Smalley, secretary of the Y. M. C. A. in Santa Ana reported to the police last night that his automobile was stolen. The car was parked, he said, near the Y. M. C. A. building at the time it was taken. The theft took place between 7 and 9:30 p. m.

Howard Jones, coach of Southern California's great football squad, will speak before the Orange Lions club next Wednesday noon, according to arrangements completed today. Jones was scheduled to appear last week but was unavoidably detained, it was explained.

IF YOU HAVE WATCH TROUBLE—bring it in—Asher will fix it at the lowest cost for good work.

WELL KNOWN MRS. J. MEEK ORANGE WOMAN DENIES GUILT ANSWERS CALL IN DEATH CASE

Funeral service will be held Monday at 3 p. m. at the Gillogly funeral chapel, Orange, for Mrs. Alice Catherine Watson, who passed away at her home, 244 South Glassell street, Orange, last night, after a brief illness. Services are to be conducted by the Rev. Vernon Harris, rector of the Trinity Episcopal church of Los Angeles and former pastor of the Trinity Episcopal church of Orange, of which Mrs. Watson was a member.

Surviving Mrs. Watson are her husband, Keller E. Watson sr., one son, Keller Watson jr., and one daughter, Miss Jeanette Watson. Mrs. Watson was born in St. Louis, Mo., in 1875, and came to Orange in 1887. She was a graduate of the Los Angeles Teachers' college, now the University of Southern California, and held a life certificate from that institution. She taught in the West Orange school for eight years.

Married 29 years ago, Mrs. Watson has taken a prominent part in social and club circles of Orange since that time. Interment will take place in the Fairhaven cemetery.

ENROLLMENT OPEN IN NIGHT CLASSES

First sessions of the Monday classes of the second semester of evening school, will meet Monday night at 7 o'clock in the junior college building, it was announced today by Mrs. Golden Weston, director of adult education. Last Monday was a holiday, she pointed out, and she is anxious that enrollments start as soon as possible since one class meeting has already been omitted.

The following classes will be given Monday and all are open for enrollment: beginning Spanish, room 2; French, room 205; woodshop, shop building; American problems, room 217; mental hygiene, room 8; typing, room 211.

The women's gymnasium and posture classes will meet both Mondays and Wednesdays in the small gymnasium at the high school. The swimming class for women also meeting Mondays and Wednesdays in the high school gymnasium. The commercial law class meets in room 5 and the bank management class meets in room 11 on Monday evenings.

Hospital attendants said he was seated in the lobby when he suddenly rose to his feet, gasped and fell to the floor.

The body, under the instructions of Coroner Earl Abbey is being held at the county hospital where an autopsy was scheduled this afternoon by Dr. Elizabeth Took, in an effort to determine the cause of death.

JONES TO ADDRESS ORANGE LIONS CLUB

Howard Jones, coach of Southern California's great football squad, will speak before the Orange Lions club next Wednesday noon, according to arrangements completed today. Jones was scheduled to appear last week but was unavoidably detained, it was explained.

Two Men Hurt As Machines Collide

Two men escaped serious injuries or death this morning at 4:30 o'clock, when cars driven by T. L. Williams, San Diego sailor, and Durwood Holloway, of San Clemente, crashed near Holloway's home in the Spanish village.

Holloway had minor bruises and was badly shaken up, while Williams suffered deep cuts about the head and was taken to the San Clemente Community hospital for treatment.

According to reports, the accident happened when the sailor fell asleep at the wheel.

WASHINGTON

JAPAN

Those who make our foreign policy do not rate Premier Saito as the boss of Japan. The secretary of war, General Araki, is the big shot. He makes all Japanese policy to the virtual extent of being dictator.

That explains why we have dealt with him so little with Saito's foreign office or its representative, Ambassador Debutchi, in Washington. Their prestige in the highest circles of officialdom here is at a new low for the year, and on the decline.

Our officials were not surprised by the news that the Japs were reaching down into Jehol. They had been surprised since last fall that the move had not been made sooner. Their confidential dispatches disclosed months ago that this was the next step in the Japanese program.

It was delayed because Japan was on trial before the League. Apparently Araki decided the League could do nothing about Japanese activities in China and decided to strike.

The underlying Japanese technique in overriding China has been the same from the start. The foreign office beats its breast and proclaims its love for all the world. At the same time Araki stirs up trouble in the key cities and gathers excuses for capturing them. The trouble always arises in these key cities in the order in which they are needed for military purposes.

The first trouble this time happened to develop in Shanghai because that town controls the only rail line into Manchuria from China proper.

Ambassador Debutchi stood on the steps of the state department a few days before the fighting started and proclaimed the love of Japan for us and everyone else. He said in effect our relations would get so friendly it would be just like Frankie and Johnnie or Romeo and Juliet. As it turned out it was like Frankie and Johnnie.

The state department is on to that game. State Secretary Stimson has learned through repeated bitter experiences that you can't believe all you hear from the Orient.

The American policy of distasteful aloofness will be maintained at all hazards.

Commenting on Oriental diplomacy an American diplomat recently said at one of the best cocktail parties:

"The average American diplomat sometimes finds it embarrassing to adapt himself to a two-faced policy but the average Oriental can be four-faced or five-faced with complete ease and enjoyment."

PENSIONS

The howl of the National Economy Committee for a four hundred million dollar cut in Veterans expenditures has gone unheard in Congress.

The boys inside have given private assurance to the Veterans' organization there will be no drastic tampering with their funds at this short session of Congress.

The truth of the matter is that the general desire for economy has not yet progressed to the stage where a majority in Congress is willing to brave the wrath of the Veterans' vote.

There is a strong probability of some minor Veterans cuts, probably in the next session. The joint Congressional economy committee is working confidentially along those lines. Each government department has been required to list all the Veterans employed together with the amount they receive in Veterans compensation from the Government.

This looks like the first step in depriving Government employees of their Veterans allowances.

EUROPE

Norman Davis has spread around among his friends better tidings about financial conditions in Europe than come from any other source.

These reports suggest Europe is not as far from normal as we are. One reason is that they always had to be content with less. Italy is supposed to be nearly normal as regards unemployment and industrial activity. France is feeling the pinchers but not to our extent.

England is an exception to the rule and so are the Balkan nations.

tions, Austria is in virtual bankruptcy. Germany is better off economically than she was a year ago. That is because the burden of reparations has been relaxed.

Those reports belie what you get from Europe in the regular news channels to a certain degree. They may be important in shaping future American policy because of the close contact Mr. Davis has with Mr. Roosevelt.

They will be interesting to consider when the next debt payments fall due in June.

DEFENSE

The Tydings-George bill for a new National Council of Defense will not pass unless needed. It would call the Council one for "Stability and Welfare," with the purpose of promoting such things as the five day week and share-the-work in industry. Its wartime powers could be stripped but its publicity influence would be tremendous.

There is no indication that Mr. Roosevelt has passed on the bill and no action will be taken until he does. If the public reaction to it is good it may become part of the New Deal.

LEADER

Senator Cordell Hull of Tennessee is being taken up by the big boys. It is certain that Mr. Roosevelt has high regard for him. He also is close to Col. House. That explains why he was called into the New York conference of legislative leaders with Roosevelt.

Hull has made a profound study of the tariff. He cannot contest with other Democratic leaders in speaking on the floor, but he will take a strong part in shaping policy behind the scenes.

NOTES

Some American sources are lending encouragement to the reports that Debutchi will return to Japan in the spring. They say he returned this time largely to pack up. . . . There can be no denial of the Japanese claim that Chinese irregulars were getting encouragement and money from Peiping in their campaign to harass the Japs in Manchuria. . . . That is the official Japanese excuse for the new campaign. . . . The reason Edge, Mills, Mellon et al were named on the committee to raise the Republican campaign deficit is that they will go a shorter distance to get the $200,000 than anyone else. . . . It all depends on how far away are the pockets in their pants.

NEW YORK

By James McMullin

BONDS

Circles interested in treasury bonds get the dope that the new Administration will make earnest efforts to do some long term refinancing as maturities come up. Local bankers admit the soundness of the principle but are not too keen about its effect on their investment policies. It may compel them to snap out of their short term fixations. Perhaps that is one of the main ideas.

New York is following closely the South Dakota experiment in direct financing. South Dakota per capita indebtedness is about as high as any state in the union but authorities are having surprising success in selling baby bonds to their own citizens. If it continues to work other states may follow the example—which might cut seriously into the influence of financial middlemen.

BANKS

The local Federal Reserve Bank intends to hang to its holdings of government regardless of what other districts may think or do. If it started selling—even on a small scale—member banks would snap up the offerings to help solve the problem of what to do with their excess reserves. The Federal Reserve is especially insistent on not giving them that kind of help.

Banking authorities are agreed that there is little danger of a recurrent wave of bank failures in 1933. But it is still true that arbitrary security valuations permitted by the Treasury are a big help to balance sheets and it is also true that liquidity arrived at through huge holdings of governments is only liquidity as long as not many want to cash in on them.

PRICES

The impression is growing in responsible quarters that we must choose between a continued low level of commodity prices and deliberate revaluation of the dollar.

Informed opinion here is pretty unanimous that the best thing we can do is to accept the current price level as likely to prevail for a long time and make necessary readjustments accordingly.

TECHNOCRACY

It is reported that Professor Rautenstrauch of Columbia is a wee mite sorry that he was so hospitable to the Technocrats. He took some spirited off-the-record razzing from his colleagues at the convention of the Association for the Advancement of Science. His defense of his guests was not as vigorous as it might have been.

Governor Gifford Pinchot of Pennsylvania is following the development of Technocracy closely. He has recently conferred with Wayne Parish—who wrote the New Outlook articles on the subject—and with Allen Raymond—who wrote a not-too-friendly series for the New York Herald-Tribune. There is reason to believe that he is considering "practical" experiments along technocratic lines.

The Herald-Tribune had some trouble getting its Technocracy story together. The first two reporters assigned to cover Howard Scott were unable to make coherent progress. The man who finally wrote the yarn got most of his information elsewhere.

MOTORS

The motor industry is banking heavily on truck replacement to give them a boost in 1933. The oil industry has about 99,000 trucks in service and has done virtually no replacement buying for three years. Sixty per cent of the trucks in service are now officially obsolete.

Bankers have approved plans for quick marketing of an auto which lacks all gear shifts. Through automatic transmission the clutch is dispensed with. It is rated as a marked improvement on the heralded automatic clutch. There's strong backing.

R. C. A.

Radio Corporation has arranged for an adjustment of its heavy allotment of space in Rockefeller Center. The four million feet layout originally contracted for has now shrunk to four hundred thousand.

MOLEY

German financial and government leaders realize that in the coming debt negotiations with the United States a great deal will depend on Professor Moley. With this in mind a German representative last week interviewed Moley and surreptitiously "examined" him as to how much he actually knew about conditions abroad. The German condensed his cable report in the word "Hopeless."

EMPLOYMENT

A post-holiday survey of New York City department stores discloses that not only the extra help for the rush days was promptly laid off, but also 20 per cent to 25 per cent of the "regular" force.

SAVINGS BANKS

Recent mergers among New York savings banks are merely fore-runners of several large-size amalgamations in the very near future, according to one of the trustees of an institution concerned. The East River Savings Bank in New York will absorb two more banks shortly, which will bring the number of their acquisitions to four. Mergers are also planned in Chicago, Atlanta and Cincinnati.

MESA WOMAN IN ADDRESS ON CHINA

NEWPORT BEACH, Jan. 7.—Holding their first meeting of the year, members of the Standard Bearers class of Christ Church-by-the-Sea met in the parlor of the new church for a pot luck dinner program, with the chairman, Miss Lyla Davis, of Corona Del Mar, in the chair.

Mrs. G. W. Brown, of Costa Mesa, a former missionary to China, was the chief speaker of the evening, addressing the gathering on the topic, "The Chinese Family." Miss Clara Collier, a west China missionary, and Miss Jessie Marriot, a south China missionary, were guests at the meeting.

The study book chosen by the group is "The Country of China." Mrs. Ernest Fischer is senior counselor to the organization.

Members of the executive board, Miss Lyla Davis, Miss Zorona Swanson, Miss Bernice Sparks, and Miss Julia Fischer, were hostesses.

BUY AMERICAN MOVE ENDORSED BY MERCHANTS

The "Buy American" movement which has been launched by civic and various other organizations throughout the United States has been endorsed by the Merchants association of Santa Ana at a directors' meeting held in Keitner's cafe.

The reason given for endorsing the campaign was that it would give more employment to American workers and would tend to aid business conditions because all merchandise made in America, particularly if made in California, would have a larger market and would stimulate local business conditions.

Many of the merchants were contacted and agreed that such a movement was a necessity, and many citizens are already beginning to practice the "Buy American" plan. It was reported at the meeting, Merchants plan to advertise the plan, it was stated.

The following members were elected to the association at the meeting: Benjamin W. Baker, Washington Market; Ray McIntosh, Empire Market; A. F. Granas, Jeweler; C. F. Edelman, Courtesy Cab company; and Richard A. Bradford, Santa Ana Tent and Awning company.

M. W. D. GETS FUND FOR CONSTRUCTION

Steps toward the actual construction of the Colorado river aqueduct which will bring water to Santa Ana and other cities in the Metropolitan Water District were taken today following the transfer of funds from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to the district.

The $2,015,000 constitutes the proceeds from the sale of the first block of aqueduct bonds and became immediately available for financing of construction work. It is estimated that the sum is sufficient to finance the construction of the huge water carrier for 60 days.

The money will be used for the completion of preliminary work now under way and for the launching of actual construction of the aqueduct.

DEPUTY SHERIFF OF L. A. IS DISCHARGED

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 7.—(UP)—Deputy Sheriff John Beckrooke, 43, was relieved of duties yesterday after Sheriff E. W. Biscailuz traced reports that narcotics were being smuggled to prisoners in the county jail.

Biscailuz said he discharged Beckrooke, a turnkey, when the latter admitted he delivered letters, containing morphine, to Henry J. Otto, under sentence on a bogus check charge. The sheriff said the turnkey admitted receiving $5 for delivering each letter but insisted he did not know the contents.

Brea Man Sells Service Station

BREA, Jan. 7.—Olla Cole, who some months ago bought the filling station department of the Crowe brothers station on the corner of Date and Pomona avenues, has sold his business to Ray Taylor, recently of Fontana. Mr. and Mrs. Taylor are living in the Flanagan court on East Elm street.

Mr. and Mrs. Cole expect to settle in the middle east shortly. Mrs. Cole already having been called there because of the illness of her mother. Mr. Cole expect to join her there as soon as he can arrange his business affairs.

Police News

Three persons were given fines in the police court Thursday on speeding charges. They were: Oscar Hammerstein, of Newport Beach, $10; George Leon Selig, of Los Angeles, $25, and Kenneth Savage, of 414 West Walnut street, $8.

HOOKS and SLIDES Alhambra Routs Santa Ana Cagers, 32 to 15

The White Sox deserve some kind of prize, anyway. The club will try out Pitches Fabian Lora, Kewalik and Leslie William Tette. Probably a couple of foot-ball players from Notre Dame.

TRA, LA, TRA, LA!
When spring comes to bring the violets peeping in the woodland dells, and the birds sing in the budding trees, Forest F. Twogood will unlimber his joints in the training camp of the Cleveland Indians.

WE'RE TELLING YOU
If and when Primo Carnera is pushed into the ring with Jack Sharkey, he will receive five broken ribs for his pains, and will not win the world's heavyweight championship at all.

RAH, RAH; TECHNOCRATS!
Technocracy isn't such a bad idea after all, perhaps. There seems to be no football rating system in the plan.

GR-R-R-R
The threats that Jockey Johnny Gilbert received are not so hard to understand. There have been times when we felt like threatening jockeys ourselves.

OR MAYBE SOONER
If and when Max Baer is pushed into the ring against Max Schmeling, his fighting ambitions will suffer a rude jolt along about the twelfth round.

IT DOES BEAT ALL!
A look at the pitching averages reveals that Danny MacFadden, who was traded to the Yankees for Ivy Paul Andrews, won one out of 11 games before leaving the Red Sox for his new job. Andrews won eight out of 14 after going to the Boston team, which is a better record than MacFadden made for the Yankees. You never know which way a worm will turn.

HOW ABOUT KOKOMO?
Detroit Operative H. G. Salinger reports that he has the wrestling championship of the world all straightened out. Henri De Glane is world's champion of Boston and way points. Stranger Lewis is world's champion of New York City; Jim London is world's champion of Philadelphia, and John Peck is world's champion of Columbus, O.

SOME POINTS
Colgate scored 264 points against the opponents' nothing during the 1932 football season, but away back in 1888 Yale scored 690 points while allowing their adversaries a great big zero. So maybe Colgate wasn't so hot after all.

WRONG NUMBERS
Averages being figures, are not always on the up and up. A look at the statistics shows Dale Alexander with 392 right up there at the top in fielding, but Dale is not a very good fielder, my friends.

HE KNEW BETTER
If Al Simmons had obeyed an instruction from Connie Mack to move in closer in the first inning of the last game of the world series of 1921, he might have caught two Texas leaguers and the St. Louis Cardinals might not have been champions of the world.

DID YOU ORDER EGGS?
Max Schmeling hails from Hamburg. Max Baer is from Livermore, Calif. Lots of meat in this paragraph, eh, wot?

YOU'RE TELLING US?
Mr. Dempsey, promoter of the Baer-Schmeling thing, says the fight will draw $500,000. He also says he may hold it in Reno, Nev. One of those sentences has something wrong in it. Send in the answer and receive a blond chest wig.

BUT WHY NOT?
There was some curiosity when William A. Brady dropped in at the Waldorf for the signing of the two Maxes, but the rumor that he had come to challenge the winner on behalf of his two former champions, Jim Corbett and Jim Jeffries, proved to be unfounded.

French Signs For 1933 With Pirates
HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 7.—(UP)—Harry French, pitcher of the Pittsburgh Pirates, announced today he had signed his contract for the 1933 season and mailed it to the club officials in Pittsburgh. He said the contract called for $1500 more for 1933 than 1932 and that he was "very pleased."

MOORS PILE UP BIG ADVANTAGE IN FIRST HALF

By a larger margin than comparative records indicated, Alhambra high school defeated Santa Ana, 32-15, in the Coast Preparatory league's fifth round of basketball competition at Alhambra last night.

There was little doubt but what Coach Bill Cook's Saints were off form, yet the real reason they were sidetracked could be traced directly to the stellar playing of Coach Bob Pursell's Moors, now undefeated after three conference games.

Alhambra won in the first half by building up an 18-5 lead. The Moors wasted little time getting started, especially Walt Setton, forward, whose basket-hitting ability accounted for Alhambra's 12-5 margin at the end of the first quarter. The Saints went scoreless throughout the second period.

After his regulars—Acker and Sprague, forwards; Wiemer, center; Schwarm and Thielens, guards—began lagging as the result of Alhambra's killing attack, the Saint mentor inserted a long list of substitutions—Yonel, Conrad, Clark, Kidder, Hendrie, Hawkins, Roberts, Winkush, Cook and Prelinger—but they fared no better than his starting combination.

Forwards Acker and Sprague, usual high scorers, were held to 8 and 4 points, respectively, while Forwards Anderson and Setton of the winners annexed 10 and 11. In a preliminary, Alhambra's "Bees" swamped Santa Ana's mid-dleweights, 34 to 11.

The Saints travel to Pasadena Tuesday night. Victory there will mean an all-time record for Santa Ana, since no Saint team has ever won three league games. The

GARDEN GROVE 'B' AND 'C' FIVES WIN

Although losing in Class A, Garden Grove defeated Tustin in Class B and Class C basketball in Orange league games yesterday.

The "B" tussle was a 21-20 thriller which Shinto won for the Peppers in the last few minutes of play with a series of baskets after Tustin had led all the way.

Late News From Orange County Communities

RETAIN HEADS OF LA HABRA CITRUS HOUSE

LA HABRA, Jan. 7.—T. H. Powell, general sales manager of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange, was the speaker at the annual meeting of the La Habra Citrus association at the Woman's clubhouse yesterday.

Powell gave a resume of the general outlook for citrus crops for 1932. He said that the lemon market looked especially good as there are now no lemons in storage. Lemons are now being shipped east as fast as they can be made ready. This demand, he said, is due to illness in the east increasing the demand for lemons.

The orange market, he said, is more unsettled. The enlistment of more groves in the co-operative marketing program will help materially, he declared.

George Crawford, manager of the Northern Orange County Fruit exchange, spoke concerning the marketing plans for the year.

Harold Rathbone, of La Habra, government meteorologist, gave a brief talk concerning the weather conditions.

During the business session, reports were read and the annual election of officers held. Re-elected officers are: N. M. Launer, president; C. W. Milne, vice president; J. A. Chewing, secretary-treasurer; Cecilia Sandstrom, assistant secretary-treasurer; A. M. Otis, representative for Northern Orange county; directors, J. G. Sargent, M. J. Pickering, W. F. Espelt and N. T. Edwards.

The dinner was served by members of the Woman's club, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Anna C. Launer.

PASTOR SPEAKS AT BEACH AID SESSION

SEAL BEACH, Jan. 7.—The first meeting of the New Year of the Women's Aid society was held Thursday afternoon in the kindergarten room of the Community church. Mrs. McGaugh, president, was in charge of the meeting and introduced the speaker, the Rev. Coyne, who talked on inspiration and courage for the year.

The treasurer's report showed that $79.75 was taken in at the bazaar and dinner. The sum of $10 was donated for the welfare work, $18 went for rent and janitor salary for December and again for January, $25 toward pastor's salary, $14 toward song books, and $37.12 for street assessment.

Mrs. Pilley, who has served on the welfare board for the two years as representative from the Women's Aid, was given a vote of thanks for her work. Mrs. C. Haskell was elected in her place.

A dinner was planned for January 16. Mrs. Harry Wilson is chairman and has as her committee, Mrs. W. H. Pilley, Mrs. Stephen Douglas and Mrs. Snell. Mrs. Leo Howard is in charge of the dining room and Mrs. Don Proctor, the decorations.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Blockley and Miss Bierhouse.

Peggy Hale And Irving Baldwin Reveal Marriage

GARDEN GROVE, Jan. 7.—Relatives and friends have received announcements of the marriage of Miss Peggy Hale, daughter of W. B. Hale, and Dr. Irving Baldwin, of Yuma, Ariz., on September 23, the marriage being kept a secret until a few days ago.

Both young people were born in Garden Grove. The bride attended the local schools and later attended Mt. Angel academy, at Portland, Ore. Dr. Baldwin, who is the grandson of J. D. Price, early pioneer resident of this place, is a graduate of U. S. C. dental college and has practiced here for the past three years. He is now practicing in Watsonville, where they will make their home for the present.

Conduct Final Rites For Baby

FULLERTON, Jan. 7.—Funeral services for Josephine, four-months-old baby daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ford, were held from St. Mary's church here this morning at 9:30 o'clock, with the Seal Funeral home in charge. The baby passed away Thursday night.

PROGRAM HELD BY BUENA PARK WOMAN'S CLUB

CYPRESS, Jan. 7.—Fifty people attended the farm center meeting held Thursday night in the LaRue hall. Previous to the meeting, a pot luck dinner was enjoyed.

In the absence of the president, H. E. Lucas, the vice president, Dr. R. D. Temple, presided. A director's report was presented by J. W. Crill, state director. There were also reports by R. D. Flaherty and J. J. Denne, Mrs. Musser, of Garden Grove, announced that there would be a meeting of the members of the Orange County Farmers Mutual Insurance company January 21 in Santa Ana.

A steel guitar number was given by Miss Jewel Cawthon, followed by a trombone and trumpet duet by Misses Mabel and Helen Wicker, accompanied by Mrs. Norland. Raymond Musser rendered several vocal numbers and accompanied himself on the ukulele. Several girls from the Orange 4-H club presented a demonstration on pocket making.

Dr. Temple gave an interesting talk on "The Current Depression, Some Causes and Possible Solutions." He stressed the need of government controlled banks which should be absolutely free from politics. He touched on taxes and gave examples of how the people were being taxed beyond all endurance. He said that taxation is rapidly becoming confiscation. In closing he stressed the need of co-operation especially among the farmers and commented on the work that is being carried on by the farm bureau.

GARDEN GROVE, Jan. 7.—Postal receipts at the Garden Grove postoffice during the past year amounted to $8975.75, according to figures announced by Miss Mabel Head, local postmaster. Receipts during 1931 amounted to $9525.40 or $555.65 more than taken in during the past year.

During December, 1932, the postal receipts totaled $1257.72 as compared with $1379.82 in December, 1931.

DESIGNS LODGE OFFICE

BREA, Jan. 7.—At a meeting of Brea lodge No. 459, I. O. O. F., held Wednesday night, the resignation of Walter F. Brandenburg as noble grand-elect was submitted and accepted. Brandenburg, who is a resident of La Habra, stated that his work in the oil fields would prevent him serving as an officer.

SCHOOL WORK CHANGES SEEN BY A. F. COREY

YORBA LINDA, Jan. 7.—Considering other phases of advancement in social relations, in commerce, travel, communication, agriculture, transportation, made over the past 100 years, education, supposed to prepare youth for life, has not changed to keep pace, but must change if youth is to be prepared to enter into and live happily in the world about us, Assistant Superintendent of County Schools Arthur F. Corey, told members of the Yorba Linda Parent-Teacher association at the January meeting Thursday afternoon. His subject was "The Place of School Grades in the Teaching Program."

Corey, who predicted radical changes in school systems in the next 10 years, predicted for one change the complete abolishment of the grading system now in vogue in most places, claiming that the system is not for the benefit of the child, but to please the parent, and that the only reason that should be presented is one that will reflect the better work on the part of the child.

"Report cards are at present necessary evils, and mean just what an individual teacher standard chances to be," he said. "They should be made as simple and as general as possible, for it is not possible to judge accurately any way. It is impossible to say a youth four feet tall is a failure at athletics when he, because he is the same age as one six feet tall, cannot jump as high as the six foot tall youngster; yet, we measure mental ability by just those kinds of standards."

Mrs. A. J. Olsen presided at the business session. Mrs. Willard Beckley reported on the lectures given by Dr. Regina Westcott Wileman at Fullerton each Wednesday. Mrs. Elizabeth Worsley announced that the treasure chest made up of various art displays and sent to rural schools in the county, was on display at the Yorba Linda school. Mrs. Mabel Paine, program chairman introduced the speaker and also introduced Mrs. Herman Anderson, who played a violin solo, accompanied by the piano by Mrs. B. M. Selover. Hostesses were Mrs. H. K. Clow, Mrs. Emil Boege, Mrs. H. H. Coulter, Mrs. Edna Harwood and Mrs. French.

NEW LEADER FOR GIRL SCOUT TROOP

WESTMINSTER, Jan. 7.—With the resignation of Mrs. Helen Burns as leader of the Girl Scout troop of Westminster, Mrs. Pearl Hill was appointed to this position at a meeting of the directors of the Scouts held Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Hill. Mrs. Vera Skinner was appointed assistant leader and Mrs. Ned Clinton, Mrs. Fred Basse and Mrs. Arthur Murdy are the other three women working on the committee.

Bridge Luncheon For Woman's Club Of Los Alamitos

LOS ALAMITOS, Jan. 7.—The regular monthly business and social meeting of the Woman's Improvement club was held Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. H. E. Thompson. The business of the day was the election of a vice president. Mrs. Mary Grafius was elected to that office. It was voted to give a 1 o'clock luncheon followed by a bridge party on January 18 in the home of Mrs. B. Juskiewicz. Miss Margaret McOmie, who recently returned from Washington, D. C., gave an interesting talk on the beauties of that city and the surrounding country. Refreshments were served to 12 members and guests.

Member Contest For Lions Club

GARDEN GROVE, Jan. 7.—Mrs. Charles Lake entertained members of her sewing club with a Mexican luncheon at her home on North Walnut street Thursday. The table was covered with a red and white checked cloth with a centerpiece of pottery filled with cactus. Covers were placed for Mrs. William Goodfellow and Mrs. Emmott Smith, guests of the club, and the following members: Mrs. E. W. Edwards, Mrs. Ray Johnson, Mrs. Arthur Woodworth, Mrs. Howard Barnes, Mrs. Charles Ver Jones and the hostess, Mrs. Lake.

The afternoon was spent with fancy work and social conversation.

ATTENDANCE NORMAL

PLACENTIA, Jan. 7.—Attendance in the Placentia union grammar school district regained about normal proportions yesterday following opening Tuesday with a slight reduction, according to Mrs. O. D. Beck, school nurse.

The teachers' association for relief is caring for several families, and the activity of Mrs. Beck's department includes the gathering and distributing clothing to the needy children, as well as a check on lunches to see that children are adequately provided for.

NEW SOCIAL ORDER SEEN BY WOMAN'S CLUB LEADER IN LAGUNA BEACH ADDRESS

LAGUNA BEACH, Jan. 17.—Mrs. Earl E. Smith, of Anaheim, president of the Orange County Federation of Women's clubs, told members of the Woman's club of Laguna Beach yesterday afternoon that a new social order is coming to the world.

"It may come with Technocracy. We don't know how it will be ushered in, but there will be a great educational and spiritual revival," Mrs. Smith predicted. "We must scrap the questions that are troubling the world. The present order is too realistic, too provincial, too nationalistic. A great spiritual revival must prevail."

The speaker defended the European nations which have failed to pay their debts, declaring that in this country we do not understand the conditions that prevail. The world's greatest economists are free traders and from the European standpoint there never can be a settlement of the world's economic ills until the nations are given an opportunity to sell their products in American markets, she declared. Explaining the reason for armaments, Mrs. Smith said:

"The destiny of us all hangs on the old quarrel between France and Germany. Trouble in the Orient may be settled, but any war in Europe will grow into a world war."

The topic of Mrs. Smith's address was "Impressions of Russia." The speaker said that in Russia "the conditions challenge our intelligence. Those who go there find what they are looking for."

The worst books on Russia, Mrs. Smith said, are written by the "fly-by-night" tourists.

A Russian musical program by Mrs. Nellye Schwankovsky preceded the talk. Mrs. Melinda H. Woodworth, who returned recently from a trip to Europe, told some of her impressions. The hostesses at the luncheon were Mrs. Elena Douglas, Mrs. M. Lestrangle, Mrs. G. B. Dunham, Mrs. Elia H. Goodrich and Mrs. Chas. H. Jester. Mrs. Fred D. Pettes, president of the club, presided.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Jan. 7.—The monthly rally of Christian churches of Southern California will be held Tuesday at the First Christian church, Dr. George Taubman, of Long Beach, teacher of the world's largest Sunday school class for men, will be the principal speaker. He will deliver his address Tuesday evening and the public is cordially invited.

The church rally begins with a morning session at 10 o'clock, when there will be inspirational talks. A noon luncheon will be served at the church, followed by the afternoon and evening programs. All sessions are open to the public.

PROGRAM HELD BY MEMBERS OF FARM CENTER

BUENA PARK, Jan. 7.—A pot luck luncheon was served by members of the Woman's club at the club house preceding the regular business meeting and study period Thursday afternoon. The lives of famous characters in early American history held the interest of all present during the study period. The history of Alexander Hamilton was given by Mrs. H. F. Beideman. Mrs. Ralph Cummins gave a review of the life of Aaron Burr.

Mrs. Frances W. Davis of Brea, who is county chairman of international relations, will be present at the next regular meeting of the club. Mrs. E. E. Smith, county president, will be the speaker February 19. February 3 will be an important date for club members when the bi-monthly county executive board will hold its meeting at the clubhouse. The ways and means committee will serve the luncheon during the noon hour. An international forum will be held during the afternoon. Visitors expected at this meeting include Mrs. C. P. Morgan of Shafter, who is state chairman of Indian welfare, and Mrs. H. F. Hilditch of Julian, who is district chairman of Indian welfare.

Mrs. Fred Van Loenen reported that the sum of $30 has been realized to date from the sale of the cook books made from receipts of club members. Mrs. Richard Nelson's mother, Mrs. Gillis, from Canada, was introduced as a guest at yesterday's meeting.

Hostesses were Mrs. Fred Law, Mrs. J. P. Wagg and Mrs. Wayland B. Shaw.

SPECIAL SHELF OF BOOKS FOR LIBRARY

SEAL BEACH, Jan. 7.—A special shelf on which are books of inspiration and books containing making ideas is now in the Seal Beach library. Mrs. Mary Washburn wrote to Margaret Livingston, county librarian, suggesting such a shelf to be made up for permanent use. She suggested that since the depression was causing so many to lose courage and confidence, it would help for them to read such books as "Acres of Diamonds" by Connolly, "Magic Story," by DeWitt, "That Something," by Woodbridge, "Fortune to Share," by Vash Young. The suggestion was acted upon promptly.

The P. T. A. has donated $1.50 and the city council has donated $1.50 and the other civic organizations will be asked for small donations.

ASSOCIATION SHIPS THREE CARS DAILY

PLACENTIA, Jan. 7.—The Placentia house of the Placentia Orange Growers association has opened with a part crew at work in house and field packing for shipment east about three cars of navela a day.

Honor Secretary Of Club In Brea

BREA, Jan. 7.—With Dr. Glenn Curtis in charge, the program of the Brea Lions club yesterday was staged to do honor to Ben Sutton, secretary of the club for the past four or more years. Sutton submitted his resignation of that office due to his leaving Brea for Gardena this month.

Curtis announced that the program was to be broadcast, the installation of a microphone on the luncheon table lending the proper effect. Members of the club were then invited to speak, all lauding Sutton for his service to the club. At the close of the talks a curtain was drawn, revealing a reproduction of Sutton by phonograph, which had been recorded the words of the speakers. These records were then presented to Sutton.

Those who spoke were President W. E. Fanning, the Rev. Donald F. Gaylord, Mayor I. A. Hogue, W. W. Hay, Dr. Charles Westerhout, Dr. Curtis, R. E. Barnes, C. O. Harvey and Dr. John Holland.

Social Planned By Brea Guild

BREA, Jan. 7.—A brief business meeting of the guild of the Congregational church was held Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. L. A. Hogue, the new president, presiding for the first time. Plans were laid for the annual church dinner which will precede the business meeting and election of officers for the coming year. Mrs. Donald Gaylord, chairman; Mrs. L. A. Hogue, Mrs. J. H. Grellet, Mrs. N. L. Ward comprise the committee in charge of dinner arrangements.

The next meeting of the guild will be a social affair, held at the home of Mrs. H. R. Williams, with Mrs. L. H. Newell and Mrs. Hardy assisting the hostess.

Yorba Linda Masons Hold Ceremonies

YORBA LINDA, Jan. 7.—E. T. Scribner was installed worshipful master of Yorba Linda Masonic lodge Thursday night in Masonic hall, with Henry C. MacMaster, Fullerton, district officer, as installing officer, and William Schryer, of Olinde, as master of ceremonies.

Officers for 1933 who were seated with Scribner are Herbert Worsham, senior warden; E. R. Walker, secretary; C. R. Kinsey, senior deacon; R. Richards, junior deacon; Homer May, chaplain; Ross B. Johnson, marshal; Marion Vanatta, senior steward; Arthur Dyckman, junior steward, and C. MacClatchie, tyler.

George Plumb, retiring worshipful master, was in charge of the session before installation. W. D. Shaffer, of Brea, was installing officer, and W. Kohlenberger, of Anaheim, talked on "Liberty" following the ceremony.

The next regular business session is scheduled for February 2, when the newly installed master will be in charge for the first time.

LA HABRA GROUP ARRANGES DANCE

LA HABRA, Jan. 7.—The Junior Girls' auxiliary of the La Habra Woman's club met this week with Miss Eunice Launer at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. M. Launer, on Whittier boulevard. Miss Louise Soule was co-hostess.

The girls came in costume in keeping with the theme, India. Refreshments were served by the hostesses at the close of the meeting.

Virginia Chandler gave the study lesson on India. During the business meeting conducted by Miss Lovella Williams, president, plans were made for a dance to be given at the clubhouse January 20 and for a play to be given for the Woman's club at the regular February meeting. The committee on publicity for the dance is Louise Soule, Antonette Johnson, Nellie Scofield, Virginia Chandler and Eunice Launer.

Present were Virginia Chandler, Louise Soule, Edith McClure, Ruthmarie and Eunice Launer, Lovella Williams, Ann Stanford, Evelyn Willard, Mrs. J. I. Williams, Mrs. E. E. McClure and Mrs. N. M. Launer.

Brea Missionary Group In Program

BREA, Jan. 7.—Mrs. Robert Critchlow was hostess Wednesday afternoon to the Missionary society of the Christian church, the program being presented under the direction of Mrs. Kenneth Suttill, the theme being "Seed Time in China."

Devotions were led by Mrs. Mary Best in which she read "I Love Thy Church." A dramatization of a foreign mission council presented Mrs. J. W. Runyan as a Chinese worker, Mrs. Ray Brawley as the missionary. Three monologues were included in the number, the first by C. R. Merrifield as a Chinese student, the second by Mrs. W. E. Fanning as a Chinese woman worker, telling the story of her life, the third by the Rev. J. W. Runyan, missionary, his theme being "Why I Would Not Change My Profession."

A paper on missionary work in China was read by Mrs. Arthur Sullivan and a letter from Mrs. Moody, missionary in India, was read by Mrs. Fanning. Mrs. Sullivan and Mrs. L. H. Calderwood sang a duet at the close of the program.

Midway City In Plans For Patrol

MIDWAY CITY, Jan. 7.—A night patrol for Midway City is a possibility with the signing up of several local business men and residents with W. Stoop, a former police officer. Stoop, a former Long Beach man, is a new resident of Midway City, having taken the Hill duplex on Jackson street.

One local service station, that of Van Steenbergh on Huntington Beach boulevard, was rubbed for the third time in a year recently when two men held Van Steenbergh up.

Yorba Home Is Scene Of Dinner

YORBA, Jan. 7.—The home of M. Boissereau was decorated in gay holiday colors when a family chicken dinner was held, celebrating the birthday of Wesley Linebarger.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Boissereau and family and Mr. and Mrs. Leon Boissereau and family, of Yorba; and Mrs. C. A. BOOK REVIEWS

By MARY BURKE KING

Invitation to the Waltz, Rosa-Leonard Lehmann, published by Henry Holt & Co.

The central figure in "Invitation to the Waltz" is the always interesting, unspoiled, forthright, unsophisticated young English girl, In his story her name is Olivia.

It is a few hours after the dawn of her seventeenth birthday when she first meets him. The author sketches in her personality with more than a touch of genius. The big event of the story is Olivia's first dance, which follows a week after the birthday. We are a party to Olivia's preparations, her planning of the gown with the dressmaker, her misfortune over the silver ornament, her misgivings regarding her success at the dance.

Humor and pathos are intermingled and one's scope of understanding is broadened to include a most appealing 17 year old girl, and all 17 year old girls who resemble her, or her sister Kate, who serves to throw Olivia into relief. It is Kate who counsels Olivia that it was good "never to go out without making sure one would be, in the event of accident, the body of a well-dressed woman."

The girls were invited to bring their partners to the dance. They had difficulty finding even one partner but they finally got one in the person of their mother's godson, a young man whom they did not see until the day of the dance when he arrived, quite unprepossessing since he was altogether soaked. After seeing him "how passionately one had wished to return him at once, marked Not Suitable."

Like "Snobs" and "The Manzo Tree," "Invitation to the Waltz" has a rare innate charm which warms the heart, stimulates the understanding and creates a camaraderie among those who have read it.

Not To Be Repeated, Anonymous, Ray Long & Richard R. Smith. The Tinder Box of Asia, by George E. Sokolsky, published by Doubleday, Doran & Co.

Two more useful and interesting books for the student of world affairs could not be found than these. Their value cannot be overestimated because of their exceeding timeliness. Although "Not To Be Repeated" is hailed as a "Merry Go Round of Europe" it resembles more really George Selig's books "Now It Can Be Told" and "You Can't Print That," as well as "Europe in Zigzag."

The important angle to the book is the understanding it affords of internal affairs in Italy, England, France, Germany, always complicated, Russia, etc. For one who follows newspaper reports closely, many of its passages serve to confirm conclusions, which is comfortable for one who seeks correct information. Others the book will start on the way to a discerning understanding of European affairs.

The plan of the author or authors is to present a picture of the political and economic situation in the several countries, devoting a section to each, and then present a brief personality portrait of the leaders in each country.

In the section on France we read of the "bought" press of France, and the limited exceptions, the "Lure of the Red Ribbon," the American colony. In Germany, the author says: "The world is witnessing a fascinating ing, historic drama of transition. A drama full of stark tragedy and grotesque comedy, of human greatness and human pettiness."

"Italy is in a terrible economic state," we read, confirming other writers on Italy. "Official figures themselves disclose that the economic and financial 'battles' fought by Mussolini from 1922 to 1928 and the 'victories' heralded all over the world were largely bluff."

And speaking of the technological advance, and who is not these days, they have invented a machine which is in use in Italy, which reads letters in the post office at the rate of a hundred letters an hour, and makes visible any traitorous remarks which might be written in invisible ink.

In the case of some of these sections in "Not To Be Repeated," such as the one on Germany, the presentation of the situation serves as a lighthouse on a dark and stormy night, for Germany, because of the many parties and the reparation problems, is difficult to understand.

Not so difficult are the problems in Asia, which are presented in the second of these two books, "The Tinder Box of Asia," yet they are far more important than the internal affairs of Germany. If one did not more than read the first chapter in this book, one would have increased one's understanding of China. "The Chinese, when first they encountered the armed forces of the West, were unaware of their lack of preparation to assert their rights, to keep their boundaries. China might have been partitioned and broken up into colonial empires, as was done in India or Africa, but jealousy among the foreign powers, and an astuteness on the part of the Chinese in playing off one against the other, saved China from that."

The situation of China, which is the Tinder Box of Asia is similar to that of the Balkans. The Balkans for years was the tinder box of Europe, and it still is. "The Chinese may lose wars, but they ultimately win by an increasing birthrate, by an astonishing capacity for hard work, by mental agility and an astute commercial sense. But even more than that—by a sense of humor which clarifies the relations between time and achievement. Today China is cowed down; tomorrow she will build a pagoda to commemorate the sinification of her oppressor."

There are certain essentials to a nation, as the Western mind thinks of a nation, and from that standpoint China is not a nation. Yet China has a unity innate in its own nature.

From the description of China, its geographic extent, its culture its current history, the author advances to the international problems which have been pressed in that area by aggressor nations. The reputation of the League of Nations, and world peace is at stake in "the tinder box of Asia," according to the carefully conceived viewpoint of this author.

Civilizing Ourselves by Everett Dean Martin, published by W. W. Norton.

"Civilizing Ourselves" is an excellent introduction to the study of "technocracy." And since the ultimate solution of the problems presented by the technocrats is dependent upon just the type of right thinking which this author urges upon us, "Civilizing Ourselves" is as important as the material of the technocrats.

"We have achieved a material modification of our environment," says Everett Dean Martin, "far in advance of our average intellectual maturity. Important and necessary as an economic solution is, it might easily, in our present stage of culture, serve merely to perfect the machinery we are even now unable to direct. It would be like placing a high-powered motor car at the disposal of a drunken driver. The social crisis of modern civilization may be stated in these words: 'The driver is drunk.'"

In the first part of the book, the author indicates the changes in thinking demanded by the transition from medieval to modern civilization. In the second part he discusses so-called modern ideas, many of which are, says the author, old beliefs with their faces washed, and sought to distinguish those elements which are rational and mature.

"Whether we shall achieve our destiny, (in America) well or badly, no one can now foresee. But it is certain in either case that a psychological transformation of ourselves is bound to occur. We must grow up. We must outgrow the adolescent attitudes that have long characterized the American people."

In 1919, says the author, the whole world was looking to the America for leadership. The American people became confused with eight preoccupations. Today, thrown into immediate contact with the rest of the world, we see them for the dreams and childish imaginings they are.

"The spiritual life of the civilized adult can no longer take refuge in formulae."

This author indicates in what way we are not mature in our thinking, which serves as a big step toward becoming mature. The appeal of "Civilizing Ourselves" is to the individual. Each one starts with himself to attain intellectual maturity, and it will serve as a corrective to many of our actions.

Vienna Choir Boys To Give Concert On Artist Course

As part of their first American tour, the Vienna Choir boys will give one of their inimitable concerts in Bridges auditorium, Claremont, on January 17, as the fourth event of the Claremont college's artist course.

This organization, founded in 1498, is composed of young Austrian boys who show unusual aptitude for music. Their home is in the ancient imperial castle, where they live without cost to themselves, in recognition of having dedicated their boyhood to music. It is the dream of countless hundreds of youngsters to be invited to join the Wiener Sängerknaben, or Vienna Choir boys, as they are known in this country.

The organization is at present limited to 40 boys, who are chosen from the many applicants for each vacancy after rigid competitive examinations. Twenty-two of these, averaging 12 years in age, are in the choir that will appear at Claremont under the direction of their rector, tutor and musical director, Haydn, Schubert and Mozart were members of the Sängerknaben in their youth—and in addition to the church and secular songs, the boys are proud to produce an operetta, Bastien and Bastienne, written by Mozart at the age of 12.

From the number of advance reservations already received, it is expected that this will be one of the best attended events of this season's series in Bridges auditorium. Inquiries may be addressed to the Claremont college's artist course, Harper hall, Claremont.

ATWOOD

ATWOOD, Jan. 7.—Following a party and dance at the American Legion hall recently, a group of Legionnaires and their wives surprised Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Beck when they called at their home bringing a turkey, and the trimmings, and enjoying a midnight dinner. Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Carlson, Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Aldridge, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Denny and Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Beck and her sister, Miss Laura Tallaksen, saw the Rose parade and visited friends in Glendora Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Dodson were hosts at an early morning breakfast and party following a dance at their home on a lease near here. Time was spent at cards with Mrs. Pat Goff and Verne Adams winning first prizes. Others attending were Mr. and Mrs. Schreunk and Mr. and Mrs. Friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Verne Adams and their daughters visited her cousin, Miss Edith Newcomb, at Westwood Hills, Monday.

Miss Frances Gendar, a student at the Fullerton District Junior college, is at home this week, suffering an attack of influenza.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Douglass, who have been spending the past few weeks in New Mexico, have returned to their home here.

Mrs. Pat Goff, Mrs. Edward Dep-veg and Miss Helen Reeder, members of Placentia American Legion auxiliary, presented a comic Negro skit, given first at a Legion benefit at Placentia, at the Y. L. I. meeting in Anaheim Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Levins and Mrs. Ethel York spent Monday at their ranch at Arlington.

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Francis and son, Wilbur; Miss Pearl Griffith, Jean Davis, and Mrs. C. A. Linbarger and sons spent Sunday in Pasadena with Mrs. Francis' father, Grand Richardson. Mr. Richardson returned home with them.

Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Stanbro, of Yorba, and Mrs. Ethel Watson, of Fullerton, attended the installation of officers, at Columbus chapter, of Spanish War Veterans, Santa Ana, Tuesday. The Stanbro family spent Monday visiting Mr. and Mrs. Bob Calendar at Hemet.

Unique Dog Film Booked Next Week

One of the most unusual pictures ever made, the story of the heroism of a dog, a picture in which man plays a small part and the leads go to animals, comes to the Fox West Coast theater next Friday and Saturday. The picture is "Trailing the Killer."

On next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, the West Coast will show a double feature bill which should prove attractive. The pictures are: "Breach of Promise" with Chester Morris, and Mae Clark, and "Central Park," with Joan Blondell, Wallace Ford and Guy Kibbee.

With the showing of "Trailing the Killer" will be shown "The Fourth Horseman," a big new western drama, with a great star, it was announced.

"BIG BROADCAST" ENDS RUN TONIGHT

"The Big Broadcast," in which radio stars from all parts of the country are featured, together with "Cabin in the Cotton," the latest Richard Barthelmess release, is showing tonight at the Fox West Coast theater for the last time. Two pictures of entirely different types, one a semi-comedy and the other a deep drama, the entertainment features of the program are far above par.

ANN DVORAK THINKS SALARY TOO SMALL

Warners are doing a cable correspondence with Ann Dvorak, now in England, in an attempt to get her to resume work here under her contract.

Player, who left last fall after her marriage to Leslie Fenton, for London, where the latter is doing a stage play, claimed that her Warners salary was not commensurate with her drawing power.

Miss Dvorak, originally under contract to Howard Hughes, was sold down the river to Warners. Her Hughes contract called for $250 weekly, but it is understood that Warners raised the ante slightly, but not sufficient to please her. Since leaving here, Miss Dvorak has refused to return. Studio has two stories ready for her and indicates that a new contract will be given if she does return.

"INTERLUDE" ENDS RUN HERE TONIGHT

Drama that delves into the intriguing field of psychology to furnish one of the most gripping pieces of entertainment in many a moon closes tonight at the Fox Broadway theater, where "Strange Interlude," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's amazing filmization of O'Neill's noted stage play is now being shown.

With Norma Shearer and Clark Gable in the principal roles and the O'Neill device of using both spoken-word and unspoken-thought worked out far more effectively through the medium of the talking screen than was possible on the stage, the new picture offers something far afield from the ordinary in the realm of screen drama.

Carole Lombard will have the femme lead in Chevalier's "The Way to Love."

Miriam Hopkins, previously penciled in for the part, returns from New York this week. She will go into "Sanctuary" instead of playing opposite Chevalier.

Post, Auxiliary Arrange Social

PLACENTIA, Jan. 7. — Plans were made to have a joint social meeting of the American Legion and auxiliary January 24 at the Legion hall when members of the post met for a short session this week. Thirty attended.

STRANGE FILM COMES SUNDAY TO WEST COAST

The Fox West Coast theater will play a picture Sunday and Monday which has been hailed in Los Angeles and elsewhere as one of the most astounding films of the year. It is "The Island of Lost Souls," the motion picture version of H. G. Wells' eerie adventure story, "The Island of Dr. Moreau."

At the same time another big feature also will be shown. It is "This Sporting Age," starring Jack Holt and Evalyn Knapp.

The cast of "The Island of Lost Souls" includes Charles Laughton, Bela Lugosi, Richard Arlen, Leila Hyams and Kathleen Burke, who was chosen as the "Panther Woman" from among 60,000 competitors in a nationwide contest.

The story centers around a skilled scientist, who has become half-mad because of his fanatical desire to create men out of beasts. Outlawed from civilized countries, he has set up headquarters on a remote South Sea island.

EDDIE LOWE IN "CHANDU" AT WALKER STATE

Edmund Lowe, in the title role of "Chandu the Magician," radio's favorite entertainment, will appear in the Fox film version of the famous mystery drama at Walker's State theater beginning tomorrow. The other feature picture to be shown is Amos 'N Andy in their only screen appearance, "Check and Double Check."

In addition to Lowe as Chandu the large cast also includes Bela Lugosi as Roxor; Irene Ware as Princess Nadji.

"OUTLAW JUSTICE" ENDS RUN TONIGHT

"Outlaw Justice," a real red-blooded, hard-hittin', he-man western is full of fresh twists and new thrills, closes tonight at Walker's State theater in connection with a Studio Preview.

Hoxie accomplishes more hair-raising, spine-tingling feats than ever before, and Jack's amazingly intelligent and beautiful horse, Dynamite, has a few new ones too.

Hold Rites for Victim of Burns

FULLERTON, Jan. 7.—Services for two-year-old Francisco, son of Mr. and Mrs. Maximino Reynosa of the Bastanchury ranch were held Thursday from the McAulay and Suters Funeral home and interment was at Loma Vista.

The baby died as result of burns received when he fell into a tub of hot water his mother was heating over an open fire in the yard, for washing.

New Prices Now In Effect At West Coast

Today and tomorrow marks the first days of the new low prices at the Fox West Coast theater.

Rates have been cut so that the 35 cent admission price or holidays has been eliminated altogether. The price range now is 10, 15 and 25 cents for each day in the week. Two new features are shown at each performance.

The picture will play here four days.

"FAREWELL TO ARMS" HERE ON JAN. 15

Helen Hayes, Gary Cooper and Adolph Menjou are starred in the great Ernest Hemingway story "A Farewell To Arms," which will come to the Fox Broadway theater a week from tomorrow.

Probably one of the biggest pictures that has been made in the past 12 months, Santa Ana theatergoers have long awaited its arrival and it is with pleasure that Manager Les Fountain, of the Broadway theater today announces the dates.

The picture will play here four days.

"High Class" Yarn Sought For Bow

Fox is looking for a "high class story" for Clara Bow as her second for the company. With nothing special anywhere near purchase, there is no further hint than that.

Miss Bow's second will not be made until the spring probably, following the return of the red-head and her husband, Rex Bell, from a European vacation.

HELEN HAYES HERE SUNDAY AT BROADWAY

America's most distinguished motion picture actress, Helen Hayes, winner of the 1932 Motion Picture Academy award, together with Ramon Novarro, are starred together in "Son-Daughter" which opens a run at the Fox Broadway theater on Sunday.

Enchanting, thrilling and different, different because of its oriental flavor, "Son-Daughter" will prove to Santa Anans that a new era in motion pictures has arrived, a promise for the new year which the producers have already started to fulfill.

Lewis Stone, Warner Oland, Ralph Morgan and H. B. Warner have important roles in the production.

Miss Hayes plays the interesting character "Lien Wha" perhaps the most delightful of all the brain children who trace their genius to David Belasco. The love story unfolded in the drama reaches perfection and the thrilling sequence will remain in the memory for a long time.

CLARK GABLE AT BROADWAY ON THURSDAY

Clark Gable is starred and Carole Lombard and Dorothy Mackall are featured in "No Man of Her Own," the new film which will be the attraction at the Fox Broadway theater beginning Thursday. The story deals with the career of a big-time gambler and card-sharp, who operates among Wall-street millionaires and on transatlantic liners. With Dorothy Mackall as a come-on, and with Grant Mitchell and Paul Ellis as assistants, Gable lures his victims into poker games and trims them easily.

Trouble enters the partnership, however, because Dorothy is madly in love with Gable, and the gambler is fed up with her.

In Glendale, he meets Carole Lombard, a bored small-town beauty, and because he loses the toss of a coin, marries her. The result is exciting drama.

Ebbel Travelers Bid Husbands to Dinner And Musicals

Studies and travels in foreign lands lapsed importance Thursday night for Ebbel Second Travel section members, in comparison with the stay-at-home privilege of entertaining their husbands and friends at an unusually enjoyable dinner and program held in the clubhouse.

Mrs. Theo. A. Winbiger, section leader, and a hostess committee composed of Mrs. Jay C. Hamill, Mrs. William G. Knox, Mrs. Zittella Bacon, Mrs. George Reyburn, Mrs. John Backus and Mrs. Prince L. Tope, made general arrangements for the hospitality, with all section members concurring in their plans.

Dinner was served at tables arranged in the peacock room to seat some 75 guests. Each table sparkled with candles in rainbow hues rising from candelabra of handsome design, some quaint old brasses, others of silver and others in bronze. The delicious menu was served by the hostess committee whose members were further assisted by Miss Marjorie Knox.

A musical sequel to the dinner hour was awaiting in the lounge where Mrs. Harry Hayes introduced the different artists she had secured for the entertainment. The program was varied, ranging from vocal and instrumental numbers to dramatic readings.

Dinner guests who contributed to this interval included Holland Whittington, whose enjoyable tenor solos, with Mrs. Hamill as accompanist, were "At Dawning" and "Marquita," and Miss Enriquita Armendariz in a group of four rippling Spanish songs, including "Clavellitos," "Ay, Ay, Ay, Ay," and others equally typical of that colorful land; Miss Ruth Frothingham was at the piano for this group.

Clarence Gustlin played a brilliant piano group including "The Betrothal," a transcription of "The Lullaby," and by special request, his own exquisite "Springtime Waltz." As the last number of the formal program, Willis Deutree Billips gave clever readings, opposing the quaint American colonial dialect of "The Counting" (Oliver Wendell Holmes) with the essentially British "Highwayman" of Alfred Noyes.

In an equally enjoyable but more informal interval, Mrs. Winbiger called at random upon the different husbands present, until each had contributed an amusing story or an amazing New Year resolution to the general symposium.

New Year's Eve Group Enjoys Card Contest

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cook, 1606 McFadden street, entertained a group of friends at a New Year's Eve party in their home Saturday evening. Five hundred was enjoyed, with prizes awarded Mrs. Howard Carpenter and William Whitehead, high, and Mrs. Henry Boosey, consolation.

Sandwiches and coffee were served at a late hour to Mr. and Mrs. William Whitehead, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Stockton and two daughters, Lois Mae and Kathryn, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Boosey and son, Elwood, and Mrs. Cook's sister, Mrs. Carpenter of Los Angeles, who had been their house guest for several days, returning to her home Sunday.

Quiet Ceremony Unites Local Young People New Year's Eve

Established in their pretty home, 403 Harwood place, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Patterson this week are receiving congratulations on their marriage, an event taking place Saturday evening, December 31. Mrs. Patterson was Miss Della Hampton, daughter of W. B. Hampton of this city and Orange.

The quiet ceremony was read in the parsonage of the First Presbyterian church, 303 Orange avenue, with the pastor, the Rev. O. Scott McFarland, officiating. Immediate relatives of the young couple were present for the occasion.

The bride wore a pretty grey costume, with matching hat and other dress accessories. Her sister, Miss Louisa Hampton, as maid of honor, wore soft blue with a becoming black hat. Ewald Lemcke of Anaheim attended Mr. Patterson as best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Patterson left shortly after the ceremony for a honeymoon trip to Palm Springs and Idyllwild. Both have resumed their positions, Mr. Patterson with the Santa Ana Mattress company and Mrs. Patterson with Smart and Final company.

The bride, a graduate of Santa Ana high school, continued her studies at the University of California at Los Angeles. She is affiliated with Zeta Tau Alpha sorority.

Mr. Patterson, son of R. T. Patterson of Santa Ana, is a member of the local chapter Phi Chi fraternity.

Mayflower Members Begin New Year Of Activity

Mayflower members began another year of pleasant associations and activities when they were entertained Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. M. R. Kellogg, 408 Roe drive. Business affairs of the day were conducted by Mrs. A. C. Wiebe, president.

During the afternoon each member drew a name, and throughout the year will extend special little courtesies to the one whose name she drew. A gift exchange at Christmas, when the identity of each "sister" will be made known, is to climax this little club custom.

The afternoon was spent in playing cards and sewing. Daintily appointed refreshments were served by the hostesses, who used many flowers in decorating for the occasion.

Co-hostesses with Mrs. Kellogg was Miss Allie Bennett. Others present were Mesdames K. Bell and son, Stanley; P. T. Isherwood, Laura Sanborn, A. C. Wiebe, F. E. Bernier, W. M. R. Ford, Archie Perkins and son, Roger; R. E. Smith, Edward Cochems and granddaughter, Audrey Harrel, Bertha Helmer, J. H. Patison, and a new member, Mrs. J. Zabel.

The next meeting is to be held Tuesday, February 7, in the home of Mrs. K. Bell. Mrs. Archie Perkins will be assistant hostess.

Sewing Club Enjoys Afternoon With Mrs. Dawson

Their first meeting of the new year proved to be a most enjoyable one for members of the Stitch and Chatter club, who were entertained this week in the home of Mrs. Harold Dawson, 1506 West Seventh street. Miss Miriam Adamson assisted in hostess duties.

"My Goodbye Day" was the interesting topic for roll call. After a business session, there was a social time, with members exchanging white elephant gifts. Sewing occupied the group for the remainder of the afternoon.

At the close of the meeting, Mrs. Dawson and Miss Adamson served apple pie, cheese and coffee. Those present were Miss Adamson, Mrs. Dawson and Mesdames W. W. Adamson, Harold Bishop, Ralph Crane, J. H. House, Walter Ozmont, Hattie Wall and J. E. Weekley.

Mrs. J. W. Hancock is to be hostess at the next meeting, entertaining in her home, 1101 North Ross street.

SPECIAL ACTIVITIES OF WOMEN ATTRACT ATTENTION OF DIFFERENT COMMUNITIES

MISS LOUISE REDFERN

MRS. CLARENCE LAUTENBACH

MRS. GEORGE A. SHIPE

MRS. ALBERT E. WALLACE

Miss Louise Redfern The dawn of 1933 was of special import to Miss Louise Redfern of New York City, eldest daughter of the A. S. Redforns of Placentia, formerly of Fullerton. For in the early months of the new year she is to wed Harrison Willis Tell Jr., a student at Ohio Wesleyan University, Delaware, Ohio. There are hosts of friends throughout Orange county to feel warm interest in the approaching marriage, for Miss Redfern has her high school training in Fullerton where her father is vice-principal of the high school. After her graduation in 1926 she attended U. S. C. for a year, completing her college course at Ohio Wesleyan where she first met her fiancé. She now holds a responsible position in the big Macy's stores in New York City, utilizing the training in retailing, her major at college.

Mrs. George A. Shipe When Mr. and Mrs. George A. Shipe came to Santa Ana in 1933 from Benton, Ill., Mrs. Shipe immediately identified herself with Santa Ana chapter, Order of Eastern Star, just as her husband did with the various branches of Masonry. In the following year she transferred her membership from Benton to the local chapter, and soon became one of the officers, each year advancing in rank until now she occupies the office of worthy matron, into which she was inducted just at the close of 1932. She also holds office in Damascus White Shrine, where she has served as president, and is president of Harmony Bridge club. Her interest in activities of Masonic young people has been evidenced through her duties as treasurer of Job's Daughters, an officer resigned a few months ago because of duties as associate matron of Santa Ana O. E. S. chapter.

Mrs. Clarence Lautenbach It was early in December that the wedding occurred of Miss Ann Jansma, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Jansma of Fullerton, and Clarence Lautenbach, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Lautenbach of Artesia. The young people were married in the Dutch Christian Reformed church of Bellflower in the presence of a large assemblage of relatives and friends. Following the church rites, a reception was held in the pretty home in Buena Park which was all in readiness for the occupancy of the new Mr. and Mrs. Lautenbach.

Mrs. Albert E. Wallace Santa Ana, a city to which they came in 1917 expecting to remain for six months, has come to be "home" to Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Wallace, 501 East Washington avenue, and both have become completely identified with affairs of the community. Mrs. Wallace is especially interested in Eastern Star activities, having been initiated into Hermosa chapter in 1924 when Mrs. Fred Rowland and Charles Cogan were worthy matron and patron. Four years ago she was elected to office and has continued to advance in rank until now she is worthy matron, having been installed within the past month. She has held appointive offices in the White Shrine as well and for two years served as president of Amber circle, social auxiliary of Hermosa chapter.

Gifts Express Interest Of Calumpit Folk In Future Home

When Mr. and Mrs. Edward O. Stokes depart from Santa Ana, early next week for their future home in Fort Worth, Tex., Mrs. Stokes will carry as one of the pleasantest memories of her girlhood home here, that of the happy party planned for her by members of Calumpit auxiliary, U. S. W. V., and held yesterday in the home of her mother, Mrs. Henry Helmer, 405 Halesworth street.

Auxiliary members arrived at the Helmer home in the forenoon hours, each bearing some contribution to a covered dish luncheon menu which was served at mid-day at tables colorful with flowers and greenery. In the afternoon card tables were placed for an exciting bunko contest in which Mrs. W. J. Kellogg made high score, Mrs. H. S. Huff, second high. When prizes were awarded, Mrs. Kellogg was doubly fortunate for she also received the special hostess prize.

Award of gifts continued, for guests had come with charming presents for Mrs. Stokes to use in adorning her future home in Texas. These were especially acceptable since the young people have never kept house since their marriage. But now with Mr. Stokes completing his enlistment service with the navy, they are to enjoy that experience. Mrs. Stokes was formerly Miss Edith Dugdale.

In the party assembled to express interest in the future home and plans of the honor guest, were her mother, Mrs. Helmer, a house guest in the home, Mr. Helmer's daughter, Mrs. Betty Gainer of Klamath Falls, Ore., who has been spending the holidays here; Mesdames Arthur Randall, Alfred Dresser, John Markwalder, John McDonald, W. Williams, Bert Annin of Fullerton, Edward Patmore, Henry Sands, W. S. Huff of Orange, Oscar Kurtz, Charles Reagan, Jack Shaw, Frances Dresser, Sherman Glaze, George Hubbard, W. J. Kellogg, Hannigan Moberly, Beatrice Zable of Petersburg, Mich., William Brown, Emma King Wasmus, J. Springer, Charles Dixco, Charles Chatlain, Nellie Kenney, Rena Wheeler, Warren Reed and Adolph Erickson.

De Molay

Beginning this year's activities with Dr. Roy S. Horton as new advisor, Santa Ana chapter De Molay met Tuesday evening in Masonic temple. Abe Bergsetter, master counselor, and other officers installed recently at joint services held by De Molay and Job's Daughters presided.

Committees were appointed to take charge of robes, publicity, entertainment, membership, etc. Tentative plans were made for a mother and son banquet to be held some time in February, probably Tuesday evening, the 21st. Arrangements for the affair are to be completed in the near future.

Friday, January 13 Set As Date of P. E. O. County Affair

Friday, January 13 is a date anticipated, rather than dreaded by Orange county members of P. E. O. sisterhood, it having been selected as the occasion for the reciprocity luncheon which the county chapters hold at intervals in various local cities. This month's function will be given in Santa Ana Country club, according to arrangements already under way.

Likewise social in character was the ten, on a less ambitious scale, held by Chapter AB women in the home of Miss Mary Wakeham, 320 North Garnsey street, Thursday afternoon. Freezias, January blooms, decked the table where also were arranged graceful green candles. Presiding at the tea urn was Mrs. Robert Northcross.

Reports and a quiz on the P. E. O. constitution occupied the chapter's business interval.

Commission Assistant to Address A. A. U. W. On School Tangle

Doubt as to the nature of the Carnegie Commission and its findings as detailed in the "Carnegie Report" will be definitely cleared when Paul E. Webb, vice principal of the Huntington Park high school and an assistant working with the commission, addresses the Orange County branch of the American Association of University Women at an opening meeting Thursday night. Owing to the character of his subject, which has aroused widespread interest, the meeting, scheduled for 8 o'clock at the Y. W. C. A., has been opened to the public. Mrs. Charles C. Brisco, president, disclosed today.

Working at cross purposes, universities, junior colleges, teachers' institutes and various educational organizations were felt to have reached a stage, a year ago, which was detrimental to the scholastic progress of the state. In an effort to coordinate the educational system of California the commission was appointed to investigate the problem, members of this body consisting of out-of-state, disinterested educators. Exact and personal information as to how the commission came into being, its handling of school problems and its recommendations, as already reported back, is promised Mrs. Webb's audience Thursday night.

That the project is one of concern to other than educational institutions is indicated by word reaching Mrs. Brisco from Dr. Gertrude Laws, formerly of Santa Ana, and state A. A. U. W. chairman of education, who has urged that university women throughout California acquaint themselves with this survey. Attention was called by Dr. Laws to an article on the report presented recently in the monthly publication of the University of California Alumni association and Mrs. Brisco is awaiting further material promised her by the state association.

J. C. Press Club Picks Officers; Arranges Radio Program

Meeting not only for business purposes but for a social evening members of Santa Ana junior college Press club gathered Wednesday evening in the home of George Farquhar at Huntington Beach. The home still retained decorations of the holiday festivities, making an enjoyable setting for the evening's activities. Election of officers was held in which Sam Churchill retained his position as president with Jimmy Torrens remaining as secretary and treasurer. George Farquhar was elected vice president in which position he will act as social commissioner for the club. It was announced that at the request of Gene Stevens, jaycee radio manager, the club would present a radio program over KREG within the next two weeks. This will be the third program it has given.

Bridge was then played until refreshments were served by the host to Sam Churchill, Jimmy Torrens, Miss Lucile Harper, Miss Adairuth Ellis, Miss Kay Patrick, Russell Harrington, Harry Clayton, Herbert Diebel, Orville Plumlee, Clyde Westmoreland and Edgar M. Flowers, adviser.

Women Golfers Have First Play of New Year

Women golfers of Santa Ana Country club began their new year's program for the year when they met Thursday at the club course, concluding their play with a delicious luncheon served in the clubhouse.

Class A played the first round of a 54-hole tournament, with Miss Marguerite Way and Mrs. Hugh Shields tying for first place and Mrs. J. L. McFadden, second. Class B members postponed their tournament scheduled to have its beginning on Thursday.

Mrs. Walter Vandermast was winner in medal play in which members of Class C participated, with Mrs. W. N. Prince and Mrs. George King scoring second and third.

Those taking part were Miss Marguerite Way and Mesdames B. W. McClure, J. H. McDonald, Osmun Piskey, J. L. McFadden, Frank Drumm, E. H. Robinson, E. K. Gerhardt, Hugh Shields, Don Andrews, Roy Langley, Norbert Lentz, Nat Neff, Charles Cogan, George King, Walter Vandermast, R. W. Cartwright, E. T. Mateer and W. N. Prince.

The group made plans for Class A to play the second time in its 54-hole tournament next Thursday. At this time, Class B will have matched play against par and Class C will have medal play.

New Work Undertaken By Needle Women

Women of the Flying Needle club will be engaged during the next few weeks working on a layette for a Santa Ana family, according to plans formulated at a meeting held Wednesday with Mrs. Adolph Erickson, 1041 West Sixth street. A plum pudding, sent from Chicago by the hostess' mother, Mrs. E. J. Bippus, as is her annual custom, was enjoyed at the luncheon preceding the meeting.

The club accepted its first resignation during its five years of organization, that of Mrs. Floyd Bonter (Elizabeth Griffin) who has moved to San Dimas since her marriage.

Mrs. Erickson's guests this week were Mesdames Erroll Barnes, Bernard Snow, Frank Brown, F. W. Bergendoff, William Kintz and Miss Verena Bailey.

Legion Auxiliary

General plans for various activities of the near future were made Thursday night by members of American Legion auxiliary, who met in Legion hall. Mrs. Margaret Hill, president, conducted the session.

The group decided to provide the Mother's club with funds for making comforts to be given out through welfare channels. Mrs. A. C. Eldund reported that five baskets of food had been given out by the auxiliary during Christmas holidays.

Announcement was made that the Auxiliary County council will meet Tuesday, January 10 at Buena Park. Those planning to attend are to make reservations with Mrs. Hill.

The next meeting of the local organization is to be a rural school session on the evening of Thursday, January 12, it was announced.

Country Club Party Shows Trend in Bridge Favor

Testifying to the swing from auction to contract which Santa Ana bridge enthusiasts have followed recently in company with players the country over, were the 15 tables arranged by Country club officials last night for the January evening card party. A gradual shifting of players from the old to the new colors which a year ago necessitated but two or three tables of contract, last night was so universal as to require all 13 bridge tables.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Boyer, Mr. and Mrs. J. K. McDonald, Huntington Beach, and Mrs. Irwin P. Landis, complaining the evening's hosts, joined in welcoming patrons of the monthly bridge tournament. Lieutenant Commander Landis was unable to join the hosts, having been confined to San Diego hospital for more than a week.

Church Choir Feted In Slabaugh Home

Rivaling in entertainment the pleasant affairs with which First Methodist church choir members have celebrated the holidays in the past was the party given Thursday night in the home of their director, Mrs. F. W. Slabaugh, 407 West Santa Clara avenue. Arrangements for the entertainment were directed by Mrs. Mae Wellington and Mrs. Irma Rutter.

Of the succession of games amusing guests during the early part of the evening a German ring game proved particularly diverting, thanks to the German ring song offered by Mrs. W. R. Freeman while the game was still in process.

Gifts were distributed by Mrs. Irma Rutter from a lighted Christmas tree which remained as a yule symbol, before several of Mrs. Slabaugh's pupils joined in presenting a program of songs.

Opening the music interval Mrs. Georgia Lewis sang "Knowest Thou the Man" (Thomas) and "Hills of Home" (Fox) with an encore, "Rosita." Other contributors were Mrs. Irma Rutter, "Un Bel Di" (Puccini) and "Mammy's Lullaby," and Holland Whittington, "Marchita" and "At Dawning" (Cadman). Impromptu numbers were offered by Edwin Biddle, who sang Bartlett's "A Dream" and Mr. Kenny, whose choice was "Sehnsucht" (Kjerulf).

Refreshments were served buffet style in the dining room, which guests discovered gaily appointed with a Jerusalem cherry tree and an arrangement of holly, and where sandwiches, cookies and cakes were passed.

Engagement News Made Known Today

Formal announcement of the engagement of their daughter, Miss Edith Irene Grebe, to Robert B. Fuller of Costa Mesa, has been made by Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Grebe of Costa Mesa.

The wedding is to be solemnized Saturday evening, January 21, at 8 o'clock in the Wee Kirk of the Heather at Forest Lawn Memorial Park, Glendale. Miss Grebe, who is well known here, is a graduate of Santa Ana high school.

New Beaumont Leaders Assume Office for Term of 1933

A ceremony of beauty and dignity served as the medium by which incoming executives of Santa Ana Assembly No. 61, Social Order of the Beauceant, were ushered into office this week. The exercises took place in Masonic temple, under the supervision of Mrs. Deane Wessel of the Hollywood assembly, installing officer.

The cross, symbol of the order, was prominent in the ceremonial forms, crosses of red velvet distinguishing the Grecian-like robes worn by the new officers, and the same sign being formed by this corps of women as they seated themselves before the altar for the service.

Mrs. Wessel's assistants in the exercises included Mesdames R. W. McKnight, standard bearer; S. A. Jones, color bearer; E. D. Meyer, marshal; W. Verne Whitson, assistant marshal; J. W. McCormack, chaplain; Charles Earl Smith, soloist; and Miss Mayme Havens, pianist.

Heading the incoming group as successor to Mrs. C. S. Dunphy was Mrs. Bernard Uttley, president; other executives, including Mesdames A. R. Mueller, first vice president; J. W. Hancock, second vice president; B. E. Dawson, preceptress; C. S. Dunphy, orator; P. L. Tople, recorder; Henry Diers, treasurer; C. C. Violett, chaplain; John Shaw, marshal; Walter Wright, assistant marshal; C. F. Neuschwanzer, standard bearer; Thomas A. Mair, color bearer; John Knox, mistress of wardrobe; Ralph J. Parker, daughter of household; J. L. Kneisel, inner guard; M. A. Meneses, outer guard.

The past president's jewel, presented by custom at each installation, went in the form of a ring to Mrs. Dunphy, the presentation being made by Mrs. Wessel. Leading officers made brief talks in which appreciation for the lodge's progress in the past year was expressed on both sides.

Couple Wedded Here To Live in Hollywood

The home on Panorama Heights of the Rev. and Mrs. Otto Fischer, was the scene on Tuesday, January 3, of a quiet but charming wedding when Miss Myrtle Story, formerly of St. Joseph, Mo., but more recently of Santa Monica, became the bride of Harold C. Knoblock of Hollywood.

The Rev. Mr. Fischer, who is an ordained minister in the Lutheran church, read the service uniting the happy couple. The hour chosen was 5 o'clock, and the setting sun threw into bright relief the orange groves stretching to the sea, and far in the distance, the dark outline of Catalina Island, all plainly visible through the big west windows where the vows were taken.

Harold Knoblock Jr. of Buffalo, N. Y., served as best man while Mrs. Wesley Stiles of Long Beach, assisted Miss Story as honor matron. There were no other guests save the ministerial family.

Mr. and Mrs. Knoblock will make their home in Hollywood where the former is general manager of the Hellman Barber shop on Hollywood boulevard.

ATTRACTIVE MORNING FROCK Pattern 2373 By ANNE ADAMS

We hardly know where to begin to tell you about the fashion points of this frock, for there are so many of them. The long lines of the surplice bodice accented by binding and belt bows, the pointed skirt seaming together with pleats and topstitching are neat and slenderizing on larger figures. A ray cotton print would be very practical to use, with vestee, adding a note of contrast. Long sleeves are included.

Pattern 2373 may be ordered only in sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 and 48. Size 36 requires 2 3/4 yards 36 inch fabric and 3 1/2 yard 36 inch contrasting. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included with this pattern.

EAT AND GROW THIN Beef Broth with Lettuce and Rice

Two pate pan broiled chopped steak 1 small baked potato 1 cup chopped spinach Orange Salad, Mineral Oil Mayonnaise Black Coffee or tea with lemon

Calory total, 635. Calory total for three meals, 1200.

When going in for the business of dieting it is wise to have a supply of beef broth on hand: take a pint of this broth, shred up some lettuce and add it to the hot broth after the teaspoonful of rice has cooked in the broth 30 minutes. Cook until the lettuce is well wilted.

For the chopped steak have the butcher run lean round through the grinder. Season what you intend to cook, form into thin patties and broil quickly on a dry pan. Add hot water to the meat juice in the pan, boil up and pour into the heart of the baked potato.

For the cup of cooked spinach you will find mineral oil mayonnaise makes an ideal dressing. One orange, peeled and sliced, served on plenty of shredded lettuce, which you must eat, too, forms the salad.

mixing has reached this stage turn it out on waxed paper and shape into a roll using the fingers and a spoon.

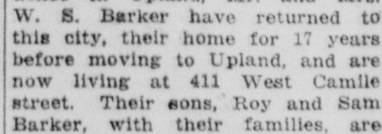

Chill the roll for several hours, then slice an aserve with whipped cream.

This fruit roll can also be baked . . . quite versatile, isn't it? In that case I think it might improve it to soak the dried marshmallows in a mixture of lemon and orange juice for 30 minutes before mixing them with the rest of the ingredients. Bake in a shallow pan, fairly quick even, ten or fifteen minutes. Serve in small squares with a spoonful of cream or a hot lemon sauce.

There are close to 1800 calories in this fruit roll, practically all of them energy units. I shall omit the cream when I serve my own portion.

How do you like our new diet service? Write and tell us . . . ask questions . . . as many as you wish . . . to be discussed via the Mixing Bowl or by personal letter.

Au revoir until Monday. ANN MEREDITH.

After a number of years' residence in Upland, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Barker have returned to this city, their home for 17 years before moving to Upland, and are now living at 411 West Camille street. Their sons, Roy and Sam Barker, with their families, are remaining in Upland, having extensive orange grove interests there and in Riverside.

Mrs. Susie Kimball plans to leave Sunday for her home in San Francisco after having enjoyed a holiday visit with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hill, 907 Kilson drive. Other guests in the Hill home are Mr. and Mrs. Harry Copson of Bayfield, Colo., who have been renewing many friendships here in their former home.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ey, 201 East Ninth street, and their two little daughters, spent part of the holidays in Palm Springs and Lake Arrowhead.

Mrs. Robert S. Wade, 2388 Heliotown drive, was home today from Los Angeles, where she spent the day following a trip to that city made last night with Mrs. Leland S. Auer (Lois Rees) formerly of this city and Anaheim, and now residing in Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. William Penn, who with Mrs. Penn's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. W. Fullerton of Los Angeles, spent a few days this week in Yosemite valley, have returned to their home at 1806 Spurgeon street. The Santa Anas, although arriving two weeks after the most recent snowstorm, found a great deal of snow in the valley and described the resort as remarkably beautiful. Their own snow sport was limited to tobogganing, they said.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Wilkes of East Santa Clara avenue took advantage of the holiday period to arrange brief reunions with their children. The first such visit took place in San Marino, where they were guests of their daughter, Mrs. S. M. Last, at a turkey dinner. A second turkey dinner was enjoyed a few days later in the home of their son, Dr. Alfred Wilkes, in Los Angeles.

Oaths of Office Taken By Calumit Leaders At Joint Rites

Induction of Mrs. Charles Reagan as president of Calumit auxiliary, United Spanish War Veterans, and of U. Sherman Glaze as commander of Calumit camp No. 26 at joint services taking place in Knights of Columbus hall Tuesday night was anticipated by an elaborate banquet presented in the Doris Kathryn to a gathering of 40. Table decorations were especially colorful, with corsages provided for the occasion by Mrs. Hannigan Moberly and Mrs. Charles Reagan, retiring and incoming leaders.

Taking office at the ceremony following the dinner were auxiliary officers including Mesdames Charles Reagan, president; John Shaw, senior vice president; Cecil Cook, junior vice president; Jack Hesse, conductor; Alfred Moulton, assistant conductor; W. W. Tantlinger, historian; Henry W. Helmer, treasurer; Warren Reed, secretary; Adolph Erickson, reporter; Oscar Kurts, guard; George Fitzpatrick, assistant guard; and Mesdames George Hubbard, Emma Wassum, Charles Kincard, Rena Wheeler, Alfred Hall, Hannigan Moberly, Charles Hyatt and Effie Hawley, colors.

The exercises were directed by past president of the auxiliary under the leadership of Mrs. May Glaze, department chaplain. Addressing officer, Mrs. Moberly was presented with her badge of office, with flowers, and with a beautiful coffee table, gift of the auxiliary. Flowers also went to Mrs. Reagan and to Mrs. Glaze, the former likewise receiving flowers from the Veterans of Foreign Wars auxiliary, of which she is a member.

Visitors were present from the Long Beach auxiliary, Warwick auxiliary, Fullerton and from Tacoma, Wash., and Hollywood.

Camp executives were installed immediately following, incoming Commander Glaze heading a corps comprised of A. F. Moulton, senior vice president; A. H. Hall, junior vice president; George E. Hubbard, adjutant; John Markwalder, quartermaster; William Brown, chaplain; James Randall, officer of the day; Charles Reagan, officer of the guard; J. C. Crawford, surgeon; W. W. Tantlinger, patriotic instructor; M. C. Cooper, historian; W. R. DeBois, quartermaster; Adolph Erickson, quartermaster sergeant; Charles Lindquist, senior color sergeant; Forrest Gay, junior color sergeant; Charles Winter, trustee.

Department Heads Superintending the ceremony were Robert Keyes of Long Beach camp, installing officer, and Frank Pond of Long Beach, master of ceremonies. Two introductions preceded the forms, R. S. Stevens, department patriotic instructor, and John Stamba, department assistant adjutant, being presented.

A past commander's badge was bestowed upon Charles Winter by Past Commander Tantlinger following a speech of acceptance by incoming Commander Glaze. Flowers went to the latter from George Millen, past commander, and to Mr. Winter, both Mr. Keyes and Mr. Pond also receiving bouquets. Small remembrances went to each new officer, and a series of short talks was heard from Commander Barr of Long Beach; N. E. Meister, V. F. W. commander; R. S. Stevens, Ora Stamba, H. Phillips, commander of marine camp, Mr. Keyes and Dan Russell, commander elect of Warwick camp, Fullerton.

Paulino Safety Program

The cause of "Safety," now being urged in local communities, was strengthened in Paulino yesterday by a talk on that subject given by George Peterkin of Costa Mesa, safety officer and member of the California Highway patrol. Presented under the auspices of the Paulino P.T.A., the both program and the pot luck luncheon which preceded it were opened to Paulino citizens.

Amplifying the safety program was an article, "Safety and Economy," read by Mrs. B. Barbee; a "Safety Song" given by the school children, and an open discussion of "Safety in the Home."

P.T.A. members are now working on bonnets for an Easter sale, proceeds from which will be returned to the association as dues and will be expended for various community needs.

Bibber street, had resumed her responsibilities as children's librarian at Santa Ana public library today following a ten-day operation performed this past week end.

Miss Ethelyn May, 315 South Main street, left Wednesday morning via Union Pacific for a several months' visit in Goldenburg, Neb. Her mother, Mrs. W. C. May, entertained as recent guests, Norvin Holzmark of Chicago, Ill., and Mrs. Margaret Elliott of Berkeley.

Miss Maybelle Johnston has resumed her studies at Pasadena Junior college, having spent the past several days with her mother, Mrs. Jeanette Johnston, 215 Grand avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman L. Wilcox and daughter, Shirley, of Grand Rapids, Mich., who arrived just before the holidays for a visit with their cousin, Mrs. Maggie Carlile, 805 West First street, have found the Santa Ana climate so beneficial to the health of Mrs. Wilcox that they are considering making this their permanent home.

Originally scheduled for one week the special revival meetings conducted at Holiness church here by the Rev. U. E. Harding, have proven so successful that the Rev. P. K. Wells, pastor of the church, has announced that they will be continued for one more week.

The Rev. Mr. Harding plans to conduct a similar series of meetings in Pasadena and other Southern California communities. Upon completion of his series of services in Southern California he will go east as far as Kansas City where he will conduct services.

Baptist Men To Hold Open Meet On Technocracy

Preparing for a public discussion meeting, arrangements have been completed for the Rev. Perry F. Schrock, minister of the First Congregational church, to discuss Technocracy at an open Brotherhood meeting of the First Baptist church which will be held in the church parlor Tuesday night at 6:30 p. m.

Reservations for the dinner which will be served, may be made by those desiring to attend by telephoning 1872-J by Monday noon. Those who wish to hear the address and discussion and who do not wish to attend the dinner, can do so by attending the meeting at 7:15 p. m. The meeting is open to the public.

Wisconsin Man to Preach Tomorrow

As a result of the convergence of Foursquare Gospel preachers from all parts of the world, arrived for the tenth annual convention of this denomination, the pulpit of the Santa Ana tabernacle will be well supplied with interesting speakers for the duration of the conference, the Rev. and Mrs. D. F. Myers, local co-pastors, pointed out today. First of the visiting ministers to preach here will be the Rev. Sidney Corral of Kenosha, Wisconsin, who will speak tomorrow at 10:45 a. m. and 7 p. m. respectively, on "The Supreme Test" and "We Must Have Joy."

Great Paintings To Be Sermon Topics

Religion, which already has invaded the realms of politics and economics, will enter the sphere of art tomorrow in one local house of worship when the Rev. O. Scott McFarland of the First Presbyterian church, launches an evening sermon on "The Gospel in Art." The introductory paper will be descriptive of "The Arrival of the Shepherds" by LeRolle. A reproduction of the painting discussed, 8x11 inches in size, will be given each person or family attending the service, the Rev. Mr. McFarland said. Spiritual lessons taught by the pictures will be emphasized.

COME to CHURCH

An impressive view of Jerusalem from the Church Tower on the Mount of Olives. Presenting a far different architectural silhouette from that of Christ's time.

WHO is there among us who can say to himself—"At all times I am happy, I am contented. I do no evil, and no evil is done unto me." No one. For this world is filled with bitter for sweet . . . with tribulation for joy. Yet in our hours of unrest and discontentment, if we have Faith in the Lord, and if we love man as He taught us to love our fellows . . . then we have found contentment of soul. Seek it in your church and you will find it!

JESUS BEGINS HIS WORK

Text: Mark 1:12-20

The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for Jan. 8.

By WM. E. GILROY, D. D., Editor of The Congregationalist

The beginning of the work of Jesus was not, as one might have expected, in some great utterance or action. His ministry began where the ministry of all men begins, in the testing of his own soul.

So much emphasis has been made upon the theological doctrine of the divinity of Jesus that we are apt to forget that his divinity was revealed in his humanity. It was as "the man Christ Jesus" that he revealed the divine life and incarnated the God of love and grace in a world of sinful and needy men. Being human, he was subject to temptation, and we are reminded in Scripture that "he was in all points a tempted like as we are," and that "inasmuch as he suffered being tempted he is able to help them that are tempted."

It was in temptation, therefore, that the ministry of Jesus began, or temptation accompanied the beginning. Just what was the nature of the temptation and the testing of the soul of Jesus himself we can judge from the stories of the temptation as recorded in the Gospel of Matthew.

The three temptations there recorded would seem to symbolize the temptation of a man conscious of his power to give his life to world dominion rather than to spiritual service, to exercise his power for vain and worldly ends instead of for the glory of God and for the salvation of humanity, or to use that power for trivial or magic ends instead of in fulfillment of the divine purpose in changing the hearts and lives of men.

The temptation was in the wilderness, which means that Jesus fought out the crucial battle and decision of life alone—that is, alone with God, and with the ministering spirits that came to him with ministering grace in the hour of his victory.

The testing of Jesus was, of course, not only in those days in the wilderness. All through the days of his earthly life until the agony of Gethsemane before the hour of the cross, Jesus was subject to temptation. His spirit was tried; he felt the need of prayer, and he went at times into the wilderness and up to the mountain to pray. We are told in one case that he continued all night in prayer to God.

It ought to be a revelation to us of the way in which character is made strong and men are fitted for the work of ministering in Christian ways. If Jesus needed prayer, how much more do we need prayer?

The foundation of his ministry was in the things that brought him near to men as he was brought into the fullness of the relationship to his Father and the perfection of realizing and doing the Father's will. In the strength of the consciousness of his divine mission, he went out to gather men about him who would be capable of sharing his mission and helping to establish the kingdom that he had come to set up on earth.

We must never forget that the Kingdom of God had, in the thought of Jesus, an earthly aspect. It was a kingdom that was "at hand" and that was in the midst of men, though it was a kingdom that could not be confined only to earth or to earthly interests.

It is the significance of Jesus that he came to link earth and heaven in human life. The ministry that he began is the ministry that we need today, and the ministry which he invites all who have faith in him to share.

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KING

Old Freezy stood back of the sled and kept it moving on ahead. "How do you make it go so fast?" asked Scouty, with a smile.

"We're going many miles an hour and that's a lot of power. I'll gladly lend a hand, sir, if you need it after while."

"Oh, no!" the ice and snow man said. "You sit and have your fun, instead. This is no work for me at all. You see, I'm very strong. I push with one foot on the ice. That keeps us sailing on real nice. As long as I don't get tired out we'll travel right along."

Soon afterwards they reached a hill, and Freezy said, "Now for a thrill. When going down I need not push. I'll take a little rest. You Tinymites must hang on tight. Then everything will be all right. I'll keep the sled from tipping over. At least, I'll do my best."

The hill was steep as it could be and shortly Duncy shouted, "Wheel! This almost takes my breath away, but it is lots of fun. I hold my head down by my knees and save my face from quite a breeze. This is one of the nicest things that we have ever done."

All of a sudden Freezy cried, "We're due for trouble on this ride. Just look ahead and you will see a great big bank of snow. We're moving onward with such force that it's too late to change our course. Right into that big mass of white is where we're bound to go."

The Tinymites didn't say a word, though frightened by what they had heard. And then they hit the snow bank and their sled whirled round and round.

The whole bunch sailed out into space, but landed in a nice, soft place. Old Freezy laughed and cried, "Hurray! We all are safe and sound."

FLAPPER FANNY SAYS:

Some second story men get by with murder and nothing is done about it.

If You're Looking for Bargains

you'll find them in the Register Want-Ads EVERY DAY.

There are bargains of every kind and description... furniture, radios, cars, homes, grove lands, business... bargains in everything that anybody has or wants.

And every Want-Ad is a bargain in itself... for it is the most economical means of telling the greatest number of people what you want or what you have for sale.

Church Societies

United Presbyterian
Women of the United Presbyterian church devoted Wednesday to their meeting, with members of the Aid society tying a comfort during the morning session held in the church parlors. A luncheon, served at noon, had as its hostess group Mesdames Anna Scott, A. J. McFadden, W. S. Kennedy, John Henderson, W. W. Hoy, all of the Aid society.

Mrs. W. R. McBurney, president of the Women's Missionary society, conducted the afternoon meeting. Guest speaker was Miss Lois Klingan, missionary to Cairo, Egypt, who is spending a vacation in Los Angeles. Miss Minnie Cowan was program chairman.

The sum of $257 was reported as raised by thank offerings. Another announcement of general interest was that of the W. C. T. U. Victory day luncheon, a covered dish affair, to be held in the United Presbyterian church at noon on Tuesday, January 10. All interested in retaining the Eighteenth Amendment in the Constitution are asked to join in this event.

South Methodist
An all-day meeting was held this week by members of the Women's Missionary society of Spurgeon Memorial church, who met in the educational building. After Mrs. Lewis Miller had led the prayer circle, the Rev. C. M. Aker conducted Bible study. Members discussed articles in the December number of "The World Outlook."

Following luncheon served by members of the Louise Aker circle, the afternoon program was held in the church parlors. A luncheon, served at noon, had as its hostess group Mesdames Anna Scott, A. J. McFadden, W. S. Kennedy, John Henderson, W. W. Hoy, all of the Aid society.

First Baptist
China was the interesting theme for an all-day meeting of the First Baptist Woman's society, held Wednesday in the church parlors. The morning was spent in sewing for a missionary in China as well as for local people. Industrial work was conducted by Mesdames Earl Prevett and Harry Pink. Mrs. Elmer Steffensen presided over a prayer service.

Chow mein and jasmine tea were included in the menu served at noon. Tab's decorations were in green and gold, and included many Chinese curios loaned for the occasion by Mrs. Albert Hill and Mrs. William Lockett. Hostesses were Mesdames M. M. Holmes, J. W. Taylor, L. R. Stairs, W. A. Atkinson and Arthur Davis.

After business affairs had been conducted by the president, Mrs. C. W. Brakeman, Mrs. B. S. Brubaker and Mrs. Benjamin West, program chairmen, took charge.

Mrs. Brubaker introduced Mrs. George Lewis, formerly of Ungaung, China, who spoke on "Clods in the Orient." She told of educational, religious, industrial and social problems which confront the Chinese.

Mrs. West introduced Mrs. D. Eymann Huff, who told of how girls in a Chinese village had been educated. She had with her two Chinese children, Teng Tein and Fong Tung Ling Lee, who gave native dances in costume and sang "Oh, Come, All Ye Faithfuls."

Mrs. Brubaker read a legend "How the River God's Wedding Was Broken Off." Dr. William Ashmore, a special guest, gave the benediction.

Miss Lila Minter, community service chairman, reported that 169 calls had been made on shut-in church members on New Year's Day.

COACH CLASSES FASTEST GAME
"That was the fastest light-weight game I have witnessed in my years of coaching here," Clyde Cook said today, as he recalled how his Class C basketball team at Santa Ana Hi defeated Alhambra, 28 to 18, in a free-lance game here yesterday.

The Saint mentor believes the season's test to be his best in terms of speed, fight and accuracy. His players were trained 13-11 at the half, but came back strongly to earn 17 points. The Moors failed to make a field goal in the final two quarters, their 5 points resulting from charity throws.

Center Tucker of the Saints captured high-scoring honors with 9 points, while the floorwork of Wallace, guard, was one of the highlights of the game.

Bishop Warner To Speak Here Friday
Bishop I. D. Warner, of Portland, Ore., will speak at a public meeting to be held at the Church of the United Brethren in Christ next Friday evening, according to an announcement made today by the Rev. T. W. Ringland, pastor.

ANAHEIM POLICE NOTES
ANAHEIM, Jan. 7.—Upon the demand of Domingo Gonzales, of Los Angeles, that he be given a trial by jury, the date was set for January 17 at 2 p. m. in the recorder's court. Gonzales was charged with reckless driving. Bail was set at $500. He was released upon payment of the sum, an announcement made today by the Rev. T. W. Ringland, pastor.

ANAHEIM, Jan. 7.—The Anaheim Week of Prayer was brought to a close last night with the last service held in the Salem Evangelical church. The services, beginning Tuesday night were sponsored by the Ministerial Union. There was a good attendance each night.

The Rev. S. E. Schraeder, pastor of the Salem Evangelical church delivered the address last night. He talked on "First Things First."

The order of events during the week included, Young People's night, Tuesday, the Rev. Arthur F. Ritchie of the Church of Christ, Wednesday night, and the Rev. Ray C. Harker of the White Temple Methodist church, Thursday night.

The 25 members present spent the day in sewing on Red Cross layettes and were so pleased with the result of their work that they plan to meet twice more in June before the year closes in time.

At the noon hour buffet luncheon was served.

A short business session followed in the late afternoon, presided over by Mrs. Leo Friis. The next regular meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. J. Ben Kaulbars, 405 North Janss street. Other hostesses will be Mrs. Ray Johnson and Mrs. Paige Vincent.

ANAHEIM, Jan. 7.—Due to mental laziness only a small part of a person's brain is utilized, Dr. Jay Keeler of Artesia, stated yesterday at the regular weekly meeting of the Lions club held in the Elks' clubhouse. Judge Frank Tausch presided over the program on education that was arranged by George Holden.

The speaker is a member of the American Institute for Visual Education Research. Dr. Keeler stated that in the future there would be books in libraries which would aid man to overcome mental laziness. He said that mental laziness can be overcome if the attitude has not become chronic.

President Frank Tausch gave a short resume of his recent trip to Texas. Herb Eldred was introduced as a new member. The club received an invitation to attend the Orange meeting next Wednesday. Coach Howard Jones of the University of Southern California will be the speaker.

ANAHEIM, Jan. 7.—Beginning tomorrow a series of evangelistic services, extending over two weeks, will be held at the Calvary Baptist church, according to the Rev. V. K. Ledbetter, pastor. The last service will be held on January 22.

The Rev. Harry A. Anderson, evangelist for the Southern California Baptist convention will preach at the services, the first being tomorrow morning at the public worship hour of 11 o'clock. He will talk on "How to Succeed in 1933."

Preceding this he will give a 20-minute talk to the Sunday school and a 30-minute talk to the B. Y. P. U.

The singing, at these services, will be led by the Rev. Roy Haley, pastor of the Ojai church. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Will Whaley of Anaheim.

MRS. RODDEN IS PRAYER WEEK COMPLIMENTED IN ANAHEIM BY HER CLUB CLOSED FRIDAY

ANAHEIM, Jan. 7.—Mrs. James Rodden, a charter member of the Flower Mission of the First Presbyterian church, was complimented Thursday on her crystal wedding anniversary at the all day meeting of the group. The sewing session was held at the home of Mrs. Conrad Jongeward on North Palm street. She was assisted in the hostesses duties by Mrs. Floyd McCracken.

Mrs. Rodden received a beautiful cut glass compote and a strand of crystal beads from her fellow members, who by doing so, also recognized her many years of faithful service to the organization and the fact that she has held every office in it.

The 25 members present spent the day in sewing on Red Cross layettes and were so pleased with the result of their work that they plan to meet twice more in June before the year closes in time.

MRS. WALKER HOST AT BRIDGE PARTY

ANAHEIM, Jan. 7.—Mrs. Kenneth Walker was the charming hostess last evening to members of the contract bridge club to which she belongs, entertaining at her home on North Clementine street.

Auction bridge was played during the session owing to the number of guests present for the occasion. Mrs. James Shankland was awarded the one prize that is given. A one course supper concluded the evening.

Guests were Miss Mary Alice White, Dr. Sarah Fay, Miss Eleanor Palmer, Mrs. Richard Glover and Mrs. James Shankland. The members present were the Misses Jessie Johnston, Florence Backs, Marion Utter, Helen Grafton, Dorothy Yungbluth and the hostess, all of Anaheim and Miss Ethelyn Grainger of Fullerton.

ANAHEIM, Jan. 7.—Upon the demand of Domingo Gonzales, of Los Angeles, that he be given a trial by jury, the date was set for January 17 at 2 p. m. in the recorder's court. Gonzales was charged with reckless driving. Bail was set at $500. He was released upon payment of the sum, an announcement made today by the Rev. T. W. Ringland, pastor.

ANAHEIM, Jan. 7.—Beginning tomorrow a series of evangelistic services, extending over two weeks, will be held at the Calvary Baptist church, according to the Rev. V. K. Ledbetter, pastor. The last service will be held on January 22.

The Rev. Harry A. Anderson, evangelist for the Southern California Baptist convention will preach at the services, the first being tomorrow morning at the public worship hour of 11 o'clock. He will talk on "How to Succeed in 1933."

Preceding this he will give a 20-minute talk to the Sunday school and a 30-minute talk to the B. Y. P. U.

The singing, at these services, will be led by the Rev. Roy Haley, pastor of the

"PEGGING" PRICES

The farm allotment bill, which practically proposes to "peg" the price of four articles, hogs, cotton, wheat and tobacco, is receiving such pronounced support that we may well expect that it will pass Congress.

Under the operation of this law, the consumers of these products will pay a tax, that is levied to make up the difference between the price which the farmer is selling his product for, and the price which has been determined upon. And this must be done on condition that the farmer has reduced his acreage, for this particular output, at least 20 per cent.

We do not understand why they are going to reward the man who just reduces acreage. Suppose he succeeds in destroying the value of his soil so he reduces products 20 per cent on the same acreage? Why wouldn't he be entitled to his reward?

Inasmuch as our Agricultural department has been carrying on extension work to advise farmers how they can grow more, this condition of rewarding them for producing less is very interesting!

The object of doing this is to insure these farmers a profit on their products. If this action is taken, it will be the most radical one that has ever been undertaken by the American government. The government is confining itself to a special group. It is socializing these four things to the extent of practically appointing a dictatorship of them, and assessing all the rest of the people for the support of these four products.

Then, it is being done conditionally upon the agreement, by the people receiving the profits, to reduce their output.

Talk about the law in restraint of trade!

Talk about the law of supply and demand!

Talk about special interests!

Talk about human need!

Talk about socialism!

If this bill becomes a law, and it is sustained by the United States Supreme Court, it is possible for Congress to render any aid, anywhere, as far as our Constitution is concerned. If the government can "peg" the price of wheat, the value of hogs and tobacco, it can "peg" the price of any commodity.

And the economists, while recognizing other considerations in regard to a human being, recognize that labor is a commodity, and the logical conclusion will be that the price of labor can be "pegged." And if it is, there would be the socializing of labor, as well as of hogs.

Of course indirectly "pegging" the price of these products helps labor. It helps the farmers,—the producers of these four commodities. And in fact, the object is to help people, but they are doing it in this manner, indirectly. But we must not forget that this is the government entering into the farming operations with a vengeance. It evidences the desperate condition which it is deemed we have reached. Why is the committee limiting it to these four? Is it a trial? May we expect the price of other things to be "pegged," and if they will be, where is the end?

If this is enacted, we have started on a road which is entirely new, and is leading to a different conception of the laws governing society and products.

STUDENTS STUDYING HARDER

Breathes there man or woman who has not an opinion on "the younger generation." They are always a fertile field for comment and criticism. And unless one contacts, intimately, hundreds of them one doesn't know a thing about them as a whole, and may not even then, so there aren't very many of us who know enough to talk about that mysterious class—"the younger generation." Mr. Tarkington is one of the few who seems to know. At least he has written about them with an air of verisimilitude which has led a lot of us to place confidence in his judgment. And he says that they are working harder than they did in his generation. Furthermore he is superlative in his statement for he says that the Princeton student works twenty times harder today than he did when he was a student. He continues: "When we came back to Princeton in after-years it almost seems as if he works too much. I think perhaps we were happier, gayer and more cheerful than the undergraduates of today, but this was because we were lazier. We enjoyed ourselves more."

"Princeton men today have a much saner attitude toward things than we did, and the undergraduates are much more widely read. The alumni of recent years regard Princeton as synonymous with the thought of hard work."

The reputation of college students a few generations ago wasn't any too good either. It was judged that most of them had a pretty good time and worked as little as possible and were inclined to be obnoxious when they came out into the world. Too many of them knew nothing of current affairs, didn't even read daily newspapers, lacked the hall marks of the educated man. Today they are demanding more of their college. They are asking in their classes in economics and political economy for light on the problems facing the nation and the world. A college student ought to form a point of contact between his family group and community and professional opinion on affairs. It would strengthen his development and a few "question periods" would keep him sufficiently humble to be helpful, if that were necessary.

FLOUTING SUPERSTITION

A group of thirteen Chicagoans have organized an Anti-Superstition Society. Apparently without waiting to draw up a constitution and by-laws etc., they started right out on a program of flouting superstition during the first thirteen days of this year. They are walking under ladders, letting black cats cross their paths, lighting three cigarettes from one match, and doing all the other fate-defying things. They regard themselves as heroes or pioneers, or dare-devils or something of the ilk for on January thirteenth they will celebrate themselves.

After their thirteen days of heroic adventure defying the mystery of the ladder and the black cat they might start out to destroy some really important superstitions and outmoded beliefs. Mr. Everett Dean Martin in his book "Civilizing Ourselves" emphasizes that they are not easy to recognize for many of our modern ideas are merely "old beliefs with their faces washed."

MERCHANT FINED

In Ohio the other day a merchant was fined for displaying a clock which showed incorrect time. The story comes by way of Italy, where it was received and commented upon to the effect that it was just too bad that Americans were so poor they could no longer afford to carry watches. The truth is, of course, that some Americans are too busy to keep their watches wound, but no Italian would believe that.

To return to the merchant it seems that a citizen depended on that merchant's clock and was late for an appointment. He filed complaint against the merchant who was fined. A number of American cities have an ordinance that if a merchant displays a clock he is obligated to keep it running on time.

A CORRECTION

The other day we wrote an editorial, in which we referred to the automobile clubs as fighting the division of the gasoline tax, and being opposed to using the tax for paying past obligations, rather than building additional highways.

We noted that the officers of one of the automobile clubs—we believe the officers of the Automobile Club of Southern California—were being quoted, and we used the term "clubs." As a matter of fact, we have received word that there is not this opposition from other clubs, and possibly it will not develop officially from any of them.

Certainly the Orange County Automobile club has not taken such action. We are glad to make this correction.

The Gain in Gold

The New York Times

A dispatch to The Times last week from Nairobi, Africa, reported the opening of a new gold field in the Kakamega district, northeast of Lake Victoria. Workings in this area have been chiefly in streams, where gold streaks are found a few feet below the surface. The district has heretofore been reserved to the native population, but will now be opened to prospectors under certain safeguards.

In all parts of the world the search for gold has been stimulated by the increase in its price, measured either in relation to the general commodity level or to the depreciated currencies of many countries. The search has been facilitated by declining costs of production, particularly during the last three years. The Federal Reserve Board recently called attention to the fact that improvements in mining and metallurgical technique "have rendered profitable the expansion of operations in mines already producing and also the reopening of some abandoned properties." The result has been a substantial increase in the amount of gold produced, despite the frequent assertion that production is declining. During the fifteen years from the outbreak of the war in Europe to the crest of post-war prosperity in 1929 the average annual value of the world's production was $390,000,000. In 1930 it increased to $420,000,000 and in 1931 to $440,000,000. The Federal Reserve Board estimates that in 1932 it will be not less than $460,000,000. This compares with an average of $297,000,000 in the five years following the Klondike rush and with $177,000,000 in the five years after the beginning of large-scale operation in "the Rand."

Meantime, attracted by the premium to be obtained in the London market, gold hidden away in private hoardings or converted into plate and jewelry has returned to circulation. Between February, 1931, and August, 1932, the people of India released approximately $250,000,000 in gold which had previously been regarded as permanently lost to the reserves of the commercial world. There have also been large releases from private holding in Western countries. In consequence both of the return of hoarded gold and of the substantial gain in production, the reserves of central banks and governments in all parts of the world have been increased by more than $1,500,000,000 since June, 1929.

Sadness Should Not Be Standard for Our Poetry

The San Bernardino Sun

Edna St. Vincent Millay defends her poems against the criticism of Louis Untermeyer, that they are sad.

"The best poems are more likely to be sad than glad," she said. "Why I can't think of a single great poem that's glad."

Shelley wrote, in a similar vein, "our sweetest songs are those that tell of saddest thought." But shouldn't Miss Millay think again?

What about Chaucer's Canterbury Tales? What about Shakespeare's poetic comedies, with their joyous outlook on life? What about Milton's "L'Allegro" and Tennyson's "Princess" and Kipling's "Last Chantry" and most of Browning's and Whitman's poems? Whitman, our greatest American poet, is almost uniformly glad rather than sad, even when he writes of old age and death, as in his "Passage to India."

There may be something wrong with our standards about such things. We seem to feel that nothing can be great unless it is tremendously serious and solemn. The Russians plainly regard gloom in itself as an artistic merit. But may not a comedy be greater than a tragedy? And isn't it evident of bigness to be able to laugh sadness away instead of being overwhelmed by it?

He Must Reduce That "Waste Line"

More Truth Than Poetry

SO THIS IS LIFE

I've been reading a nice little story
Which ripples along like a song
Through an intricate plot, and I like it a lot,
But of course I'm convinced I am wrong.
My friends I am sure would denounce it
After one fierce, contemptuous look;
They would see at a glance that it's full of romance,
For there isn't a crook in the book.
They declare that the hero, a kindly young parson,
Should be jailed at the finish for mayhem or arson.

These people are clever and cultured,
Their judgment must surely be right;
They always look down with an ironic frown
On the volumes in which I delight.
They say that no actual people
Can really respect any law,
And that writers today are supposed to portray
The life that is naked and raw.
They say that a story is hopelessly bad
If the hero and heroine do not go mad.

I know I'm a crass ignoramus,
For I always have fancied a tale
Where the hero did not get involved in a plot
And end his existence in jail.
Although fairly well hardened by this time
By the bloodcurdling books I have read,
I don't think a wife in a marital strife
Should chop off her better half's head.
Unless these rough writers turn out to be wrong
The people of earth will not live very long.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

AMERICA AND HER DEBTORS

Yesterday I summarized the four ways in which the Allied creditor nations have worked against the development of a German trade from which Germany might pay her war obligations, as these ways emerge from the detailed analysis of Moulton and Pasvolsky in their War Debts and World Prosperity.

Today I want to summarize the ways in which American policy has worked against the development of a trade by our debtors out of the profits of which they might discharge their war debt obligations to us.

1. American policy has consistently worked to restrict imports of all goods in competitive lines.
2. American policy has consistently sought to expand exports in all directions.

3. American policy has consistently sought to beat our debtors in world markets and at the same time to expand our exports to the markets of these debtor nations.

4. American policy, by subsidizing out of taxes an American merchant marine, has taken traffic away from foreign vessels and thus cut down a business from which the debtor nations formerly made an income which, if they had it now, would help them to meet their obligations to us.

5. American policy has worked towards a shifting of the world's banking center from London to the United States and, in so doing, has taken away from the income of Great Britain the substantial commissions she formerly enjoyed from American and other trade.

6. The American policy of restricting immigration has seriously cut down the flow of money that used to go from the United States to the debtor nations from their sons and daughters who had taken residence here.

7. American tourist expenditures in the debtor nations has gone drastically down, although no policy is responsible for this.

8. American loans to the debtor nations, public and private, which for a time enabled them to pay their debts to us, have rather fully withdrawn from the picture.

And all of these things must be right or wrong in themselves, have made the payment of war debts increasingly difficult.

And all of these things must be taken into account in any realistic consideration of the debt problem.

CAN YOU SEE?

When you look at a child can you see him? What do you see? What do you see? Often it is a picture like that you see shining through such incidents as this: "Peter, come into the house. Goodness, how dirty you are. Come over here. I thought so. Your ears are dirty and you haven't washed your neck. Go right upstairs and don't come down again until you are clean."

"Just getting home from school?" I suppose you had to stay in. Go back and wipe your feet. Scrape the mud off them. Don't slam the door that way. You know it makes my head ache. Shakes every nerve in my body. Say 'excuse me' when you pass in front of your aunt. Peter, did you hear me? Come back this minute and say 'excuse me' to your aunt."

"Your report card. H'm. Why didn't you get a better mark in grammar? If you can get good marks in everything else you might get a good one in that, too. It seems to me. Goodness, your nails are a sight. Go to the bathroom and wash your hands and do for pity's sake clean your nails without my telling you every minute about it." And so on, and so on.

Are you so busy looking for the external things that you never see the inner ones? The inner ones are what are making the child, creating him, right under your nose. His nails may be dirty, his manners careless, his grammar poor, and still that child may be growing in beauty and power like the tree planted by a river. But you won't know. A stranger will have that happiness because he looked at the child and saw beauty and power and purpose springing out of his crude growth.

We know that the body is a shell in which the real person hides. You can touch his body and hurt it or comfort it without touching the child with as much as a fingerprint. To see the real child one has to look past his externals, through his expressions, to that inner self that hides from the physical world.

To see him you must watch and listen, not with eyes and ears alone, but with an eager questioning spirit. Then you will find the secret of this child's life and you can help him make it come true.

To see clearly you will have to lay aside your wishes, your pictures of him as you desire him to be, and see him as he is. If you keep seeing him through externals you will miss him entirely and a stranger will have the pleasure of watching his growth unfold.

Never mind what a child says. Go past that. Search for the thought that drove him to behave as he did. Search for the wish that makes him talk and act as he does. Don't stop with what he does. Look behind the actions to find their causes. Search for the dream that is inspiring him. If you find these realities in your child you can help him.
The true self of the child does not speak with his tongue, does not act with his hands. It speaks in the spirit that drives the tongue and directs the hands. Look for that. Until you have glimpsed it don't imagine that you have seen your child. He still awaits your discovery.

(Mr. Patri will give personal attention to inquiries from parents and school teachers on the care and development of children. Write him in care of this paper, enclosing stamped address envelope for reply.)
